Arrive in Peking on 'Arranged' Trip

Three Freed American POWs Headed Home

PEKING (UPI) — Three American prisoners of war released by North Vietnam arrived in Peking today on their way home. The leader of a U.S. antiwar group that flew to Hanoi to get the trio said the Peking trip was "arranged" for them.

Originally the released POWs and their relatives and companions had been expected to leave Hanoi and return to the United States by way of Laos. But plans were suddenly changed and their itinerary was switched to return them home via China and Moscow. They are expected to arrive back in the United States Thursday night.

David Dellinger, a member of the Chicago Seven and leader of the antiwar group that went to Hanoi to get the men, told newsmen who asked why they had come to China, "It wasn't in our hands. Someone arranged it."

The three men, released from prison eight days ago, were Air Force Maj. Edward K. Elias, Navy Lt. Markham L. Gartley and Navy Lt. Norris A. Charles. Gartley's mother and Charles' wife were members of the group traveling with the POWs.

The group left Hanoi Monday and stayed overnight in Nanning, the capital of China's Kwangsi Province which borders on North Vietnam, before flying to Peking today.

Both at the airport and at their Peking hotel, Chinese officials tried to prevent them from talking with newsmen. Dellinger did not elaborate on why they had come to China.

Released POWs still regarded as "active". Story on page 28.

There was speculation that the group switched to the China route for fear that U.S. authorities in Vientiane would take the prisoners there and ship them back to the United States by military aircraft, a move that might endanger the release of other U.S. POWs held by North Vietnam.

At the airport the group was met by three officials of the North Vietnamese Embassy in Peking and a Viet Cong diplomatic representative. The group was taken to the Chien Men Hotel in Peking, not far from the Chinese capital's famous Tien An Mien Square.

All of the prisoners said they are elated at being released, but expressed regret that their fellow prisoners were still in captivity.

Elias, from Little Rock, Ark., was the only one not accompained by a relative. Asked how he felt about being freed, he replied, "I'm elated, of course. But I'm thinking about the people back there."

When asked how many prisoners were in his camp, Elias answered, "I'm afraid that's something I should not talk about."

group was taken to the Chien

Asked about his plans for the future, and particularly whether he would remain in military service, Elias said, "I'll stay in the Air Force. Why not?"

Charles, who was accompanied by his wife Olga, appeared in a more relaxed and happy mood than the others.

"I'm overwhelmed at being released. I don't know what to say," he said.

Gartley said he would be "glad to get back to the United States," adding, "it's a hell of a deal."

Agnew, McGovern Talk On Prisoner of War Issue

By The Associated Press

Vice President Spiro T. Agnew and Sen. George McGovern spoke out from opposite sides of the prisoner of war issue today as three U.S. prisoners headed home from North Vietnam by way of China.

Agnew accused the North Vietnamese of "using a handful of POWs to raise the hope of many American families" and added, "They are just exploiting these few people for their own propaganda aims."

He said that if North Vietnam is really sincere, it would "deal with the duly elected government of the United States instead of with every dissident antiwar group who is attempting to make a contact in behalf of mainly themselves rather than of the prisoners . . ."

The three prisoners, who left Hanoi Monday in company of relatives of two of the men and members of a U.S. anti-war group, are Air Force Maj. Edward Elias and Navy Lts. Markham A. Gartley and Norris A. Charles.

McGovern, the Democratic presidential nominee, said in San Francisco that Nixon administration interference had caused departure of the prisoners from Hanoi to be delayed.

Area political stories on pages 18-19.

He said the President is afraid the men "will tell the awful truth about the war—that it is the bombing that keeps them in prison."

It was the third straight day McGovern has criticized the administration on the prisoner issue.

He said that in the past four years, "the Nixon administration has done nothing for the prisoners but add to their numbers." He said the government cared more about preserving the Saigon government than about the release of U.S. prisoners.

President Nixon was making his first campaign visit to New York City today to open a new immigration museum on Liberty Island, the site of the Statue of Liberty, and to attend a "victory '72" fund-raising dinner at the Americana Hotel. Mrs. Nixon was accompanying him.

Democratic vice presidential candidate Sargent Shriver was introduced to a crowd in McAllen, Texas, Monday night as, "The best ambassador to France since Thomas Jefferson. He tamed the imperialist De Gaulle."

Shriver referred to Nixon as "tricky Dicky," saying when Nixon was campaigning against John Kennedy in 1960, he said: "'You never had it so good,' and let me tell you," Shriver said, "and you know it, you've had it a lot better than you've had it under Nixon the last three years."

In other developments:

—Thomas W. Gleason, president of the International Longshoremen's Association, said the union endorses Nixon.

—Pollster Louis Harris said President Nixon had a 28 percentage point advantage—59 to 31 per cent with 10 per cent undecided—over Sen. McGovern in a poll conducted Sept. 19-21. It represented a six-point gain for McGovern over a poll on Sept. 1.

"If I were Richard Nixon, I'd be afraid," Harris told the Economic Club of Detroit in a speech.

Harris did not give details of how the poll was conducted, the groups interviewed or the size of the sampling involved.

Against Disposing of Old City Hall

Donnaruma to File Suit

By HUGH REYNOLDS

KINGSTON

Walter Donnaruma of 82 Fair Street told The Freeman today that he will file a lawsuit in state supreme court in an attempt to prevent the city of Kingston from disposing of the old city hall at 408 Broadway.

Donnaruma made the announcement Monday night at a meeting of Third Ward residents called by Alderman Brian D. Smith (R-Third Ward).

Kingston Hospital wants to acquire the 99-year-old building for expansion purposes. Plans call for the demolition of the old building and the construction of a four-story laboratory facility on that site. The city government vacated the building two weeks ago for its new quarters in Broadway East.

"Destruction as it is taking place in the city has got to stop," Donnaruma told The Freeman today. "It is easy to tear down but it is about time we gave more consideration to preservation and construction. The destruction of the city hall is being promoted by people who don't have a long range interest in the city of Kingston."

Mayor Francis R. Koenig is one of those city officials who supports the hospital's proposals. Donnaruma was asked about that. "I don't think the mayor his given it the in-depth study that it requires," Donnaruma said. "I haven't discussed it with the mayor, but I hope to."

Donnaruma wants Koenig to appoint a "citizens' committee" to explore uses for the building. Donnaruma has at least one suggestion: its continued use as a governmental facility. "Governmental agencies currently rent more than 20,000 square feet of office space in Kingston," he said. "It could be leased out to state and federal agencies."

Parking, as Donnaruma sees it, would not be a serious problem. "Confusion in the past had been caused by heavy traffic from the police department and city court. Parking facilities would be adequate," Donnaruma asserted.

Donnaruma will be basing his law suit partially on the fact that city hall has been placed on the National Registry of Historic Places and as such should not be destroyed. He also notes that federal funds could be available for the rehabilitation of the building which has fallen into an advanced state of disrepair in the past two decades.

Despite that, Donnaruma still contends that demolition of city hall represents "the destruction of a whole civic center. It is the tie that binds the community." He said, "we would be destroying the soul of the city. The new city hall is not a city hall. It is a municipal office building and the name should be changed."

Donnaruma was asked why he stepped forward at this particular time, for the first time, publicly, to speak on a controversy that has been raging for the better part of five years. Donnaruma maintains that he has always had a keen interest in the future of the old city hall (his wife, Elizabeth, is the mayor's representative to the Kingston Historic Landmarks Preservation Commission which supports the historic designation of the old building) but that a recent study of city halls in Marblehead and Beverly, Mass. culminated in his decision to fight to save Kingston's city hall. "They restored their city halls," Donnaruma said. "The preservation of those buildings will make a long term contribution toward the character of those cities We can do the same thing in Kingston."

The Common Council, which meets in regular session on Oct. 3, is expected to take action on the designation of the old city hall as an historic landmark. It is expected that the Council will reject the building as a landmark, clearing the way for public auction and eventual acquisition by King Hospital.

Paltz Police Chief Post... Two Candidates Remain

By WADE BURKHART

NEW PALTZ

A Kingston City Detective is one of two men still being considered for the post of Police Chief for the Village of New Paltz, it was revealed at Monday nights Village Board meeting.

The board has narrowed its choice down to Joseph Feraca, a Kingston detective, and John Callahan, a former Warwick police chief. Trustee John Logan, head of the village board's police committee, said the board hopes to name a chief to replace James Walrath, who retired, by next Monday, if all recommendations are in order.

Meanwhile, the question of disincorporation of the village, being proposed by the New Paltz League of Women Voters, was also discussed at the meeting. Village residents voted on disincorporation in 1966. Trustee Logan said Monday night it was defeated by a 5-2 ratio, and he did not think community sentiment had changed much since then.

The LWV wrote a letter to the board, read at the meeting, saying disincorporation was more feasible than it had been in the past, thanks to the new Article 19 of Village Law. The LWV asked the Village board to put the matter of disincorporation before the voters, and said it would be glad to circulate a petition to that effect if the board wanted one.

A LWV spokeswoman, who identified herself as Martha Stein, said disincorporation could make government in New Paltz more responsive, efficient, and possibly less costly, and would allow planning to be done on an area-wide basis, rather than separetly by the town and village.

Logan indicated that he did not feel the village government was unresponsive now, and that the village could collect taxes such as a utility tax that a town could not collect, making things less costly. As for efficiency, Logan said the democratic system in America "has never been accused of being efficient."

The village is going to set up a committe to study future government, and the LWV was asked to name a village resident to serve on that committee.

Village Attorney J. Philip Zand said a petition to get the question on the ballot would require signatures of one-third of the village electors, and the matter would have to be put to a vote within 40 days after the petition was presented. In addition, when the quesion goes to a vote a plan of disincorporation must be included, and Zand said anyone getting up a petition should do some groundwork on a plan as well.

Several village residents, including Mrs. Martha Hoberecht, spoke against disincorporation. Mrs. Hoberecht presented figures which indicated taxes were going up faster in the town outside the village than in the village, and said it would be of no benefit to village residents to disincorporate.

Trustee John Sherwig asked that alternative methods of consolidation such as having the village absorb the town, and dissolving both governments to set up a city, be explored.

Mafia Informant Describes Gangland Killing of Gallo

NEW YORK (AP) — Mafia informant Joseph Luparelli has described in court how he and four other members of the Colombo organized crime family planned and carried out last spring the Little Italy killing of rival gangland leader Joseph "Crazy Joey" Gallo.

Luparelli, who arrived in State Supreme Court surrounded by uniformed guards and plainclothes policemen, testified Monday at the trial of Gallo's chauffeur, Peter "Pete the Greek" Diapoulas, charged with illegal possession of a gun found at the murder scene.

Law enforcement officials have speculated that the Gallo rubout was in retaliation for the 1971 shooting of Mafia chieftain Joseph A. Colombo, who remains paralyzed and comatose from a bullet wound in the head. Gallo was a rebel member of the Colombo family.

Appearing in public for the first time since he turned himself in to the FBI after the April 7 killing, Luparelli said he saw Gallo arrive unexpectedly about 4:30 a.m. at Umberto's Clam House on Mulberry Street.

Luparelli said he then alerted two Colombo men, Philip "Fatty Funzy" Gambino and Carmine "Sonny Pinto" Di Biase, who he encountered at a restaurant nearby.

"I told them Joey Gallo was down the street," Luparelli testified, speaking in hoarse and nearly inaudible tones.

" 'What's he doing there?' Sonny asked. I said, 'I don't know. They're starting to eat.' Then Sonny ordered somebody to get some guns," Luparelli said.

He said he, Gambino and Di Biase, along with two brothers who he identified only as Cisco and Benny, drove to Umberto's in two cars. Di Biase and the two brothers went inside, Luparelli said, while he and Gambino waited in one of the cars.

Soon shots rang out, he said, then he saw Gallo stumble out into the street and collapse. He also testified: "I saw Pete Greek (Diapoulas) firing at Sonny Pinto and two of his brothers."

Diapoulas has admitted he was a friend of Gallo's, but has denied acting as an armed bodyguard for him.

Luparelli said he himself was unarmed at the time of the shooting.

Describing himself as an underworld fence, "selling wholesale stolen stuff," Luparelli acknowledged that he has not been arrested or indicted in the Gallo slaying.

"What deal did you make?" asked a lawyer for Diapoulas.

"I didn't make no deal," Luparelli replied, adding that he was in protective custody while law enforcement authorities help support his wife and four children.

Parent, School District in Bus Hassle

By JON POWERS

KINGSTON — The Kingston Consolidated School District may bring legal action against Thomas Kearney of Murray Road in Sawkill, because he has withdrawn his 13-year-old daughter from the M. Clifford Miller Junior High School in a dispute over school bus transportation.

Kearney maintains that school district policy requires his daughter to walk 1.4 miles from her home to a bus stop on Ruby Road . . . while a district school bus transports his eight-year-old son over the same route at the same time.

It is district policy that any student 13 years of age or older cannot be given transportation over a distance less than 1.5 miles. District officials have refused to modify the rules for the Kearney girl.

Superintendent of Schools Louis A. Salzmann said today, "We can modify the rules anytime we want, but we're not going to. If we make an exception for this child, we have to make an exception for every other child in the district . . . that would cost the district a hell of a lot more money."

Salzmann said that because the Kearney girl "lives outside the mileage limits" established by the district, she cannot be given transportation from the bus stop to her home.

The route Colleen Kearney must walk each morning and night follows a twisting road through a heavily wooded area of Sawkill. There are few homes along the route; most are abandoned. Kearney says he fears for his daughter's safety. Several young children have been molested or harassed along the same road during the past year, according to Kearney.

In one of several communications Kearney has sent to school district officials, he said: "I would be remiss in my duties as a parent if I allowed her to walk this route in face of what I know has occurred (on the road) in the recent past. It takes only seconds or minutes for a child's life to be irreparably damaged."

Kearney has met personally with Kenneth Hyatt, the district's transportation supervisor, as well as with Salzmann and members of the Board of Education. They apparently sympathize with his predicament, but are adament that the policy cannot be altered for one special case.

"I'm not asking them to make an exception for my child," Kearney told The Freeman, "If there are other children in the same situation, the rules should be changed for them, too."

Kearney also maintains that the school bus that transports his son home each night, and that would pass his daughter walking the same route home, has an empty seat each night. "There's no reason she can't be riding in that seat," he claims.

Kearney says he can resolve the whole matter himself, and is seriously considering moving his family into a friend's home several hundred feet further up Murray Road. That would place their residence within the 1.5 mile limit, and would require the district to run two buses up the narrow road — one bus for Colleen and one bus for Kearney's son, who attends the Lake Katrine School.

Kearney fully expects the district to petition him to Family Court because he has refused to allow his daughter to attend school until the matter is resolved. He said he would welcome a court hearing. "Maybe then I'd get some action," he said. District officials, however, have not indicated their intention to bring Kearney to court.

Meanwhile, Colleen Kearney enters her second week away from school. Kearney has arranged for a tutor for his daughter, but hasn't been able to obtain the girls assignments from her teachers at the Miller School. Salzmann said the girl's classwork is not being sent home because, "The girl is supposed to be in school."

Chamber Exercises Option

KINGSTON — The Friends of Renaissance Committee of the Chamber of Commerce has taken out an option on the former Beck's Market property on Central Broadway for use as a storefront center for narcotics users and addicts.

But if that means that the storefront will definitely become a reality, no one is saying.

Dr. Jeremiah Sachs, chairman of the Chamber committee, said the option was exercised Friday but, he added, "It's just an automatic type of thing; we're just proceeding with the legal paperwork."

Apart from that, Chamber officals are keeping silent on their plans for the Central Broadway storefront.

Members of the Central Businessmen's Association aren't talking either. Both sides have apparently agreed to keep a lid on public statements until the matter of the storefront is resolved to everyone's satisfaction.

There was a brief flurry of controversy over the proposed storefront last week. The Central Businessmen's Association voiced objections to the plan because it has its eye on the Beck property for eventual use as a parking lot. Ed Arace, CBA president, also noted that the association was concerned over the effect the storefront might have on businesses in the area.

But the two sides have since met on the matter, and agreed to iron out their differences . . . quietly, Arace told The Freeman Monday, "We hope to make a joint statement on our progress within the near future."

Even though the Chamber's committee has exercised its option on the Beck property, there is no guarantee that it will ultimately purchase the land and building. Sachs told The Freeman that it would be "premature" to assume, at this stage, that the Broadway storefront is likely to be established even though the option has been exercised.

The city, like the CBA, has also had its eye on the Beck property for use as a parking lot. Don Quick (D-6th Ward) told The Freeman, however, that if the Chamber purchases the property, the city already has an alternate site for a parking lot in mind.

Quick declined to identify the alternate site, but did say, "We've been quoted a price; we're not sure if we can afford it; we're negotiating."

Meanwhile, Quick has asked for a meeting with CBA and Chamber officials to determine exaetly what the status of the storefront is at this time. "Everyone seems to have a different story," said Quick, "I want to find out what's what."

If it purchases the Beck property, the Chamber will pay for the land and building and for the rehabilitation of the abandoned structure, and then rent the facility to Project Renaissance, which will operate the storefront. The storefront will be staffed by two paid ex-narcotics addicts already employed by the city's Narcotics Guidance Council.

Chinese-Japanese Summit . . . Nuts and Bolts Discussion

PEKING (AP) — With basic agreement already apparently reached on the major issues, the Chinese-Japanese summit got down today to the business of fleshing out the bare bones of a new relationship between Peking and Tokyo.

Japanese Foreign Minister Masayoshi Ohira began talks with his opposite number, China's Chi Peng-fei, centering around the nuts and bolts problems involved in the establishment of diplomatic relations with the Chinese mainland after a lapse of more than three decades.

In the afternoon, Prime Minister Kakuei Tanaka picks up the thread of the conversations he began with Premier Chou En-lai soon after his arrival here Monday on a six-day state visit.

In their first two talks, the two prime ministers apparently agreed to agree, a substantial step forward in any summit encounter.

Chou and Tanaka gave the measure of their early success in toasts Monday night at a Peking duck banquet hosted by Chou in the vast main dining hall of the Great Hall of the People.

"We expect our talks will achieve complete success," said Chou.

He recalled 2,000 years of cultural contacts and 50 years of "tremendous disasters" visited on China by Japanese militarists since 1894.

But in the new mood of Chinese-Japanese euphoria, Chou, 74, who was educated in Japan, was in a forgiving mood.

"The past not forgotten is a guide for the future," he said. "We should firmly bear the experience and the lesson in mind."

In his remarks at the banquet, Tanaka used the term "profound self-examination" to express regret and repentance for his country's past aggression against China.

Chou foresaw the new relationship opening up "broad prospects for the future development of friendly contacts between our two peoples and the expansion of economic and cultural exchanges . . ."

Japanese business interests make no bones about their belief that recognition will give the nearly billion-dollar-a-year trade between the two countries a tremendous boost.

Seeking to allay anxieties among American allies in the Pacific, Chou added: "Sino-Japanese friendship is not exclusive; it will contribute to the relaxation of tension in Asia and the safeguarding of world peace."

Revamping World Monetary System

U.S. Puts Plan on the Table

WASHINGTON (AP) — Getting a jump on the rest of the world, the United States today puts on the table the first specific government plan for revamping the world monetary system.

The U.S. move to spread out its ideas in detail saved the annual meeting of the International Monetary Fund from turning into a dull litany of the need for reform, without specific ways to accomplish it.

It also promised to clarify the many issues clouding the present debate over how the next world money and trading order should look.

The United States, in deciding to state its position on monetary reform, blunted much of the criticism that it has dragged its feet in helping to shape a new system.

Finance ministers and central bankers from 124 nations had expected a simple scenario during the annual IMF meeting: a week of general speeches ending with official appointment of the committee that will get down to details later.

But President Nixon, addressing the opening session of the IMF, Monday, disclosed that the United States is ready now with some ideas of its own. He left it to Treasury Secretary George P. Shultz to itemize the proposals.

Nixon, who suddenly brought the issue of monetary reform to a head on Aug. 15, 1971, by suspending convertibility of the dollar into gold, declared that the United States wants more than just monetary reform.

The upcoming monetary negotiations must deal with trade and investment as well, the President said, implying strongly that he seeks removal of some of the barriers erected in other countries against U.S.-made products.

"Like every leader of the nations represented here," he said, "I want to see new jobs created all over the world, but I will not condone the export of jobs out of the United States caused by an unfairness built into the world's trading system."

One of the criticisms the Nixon administration has leveled at the European Common Market has been that it may be moving toward an inward-looking economic bloc, thus frustrating and distorting the trading and monetary order.

Except for Nixon's appearance, the first day of the meeting followed the ceremonial script with opening speeches by the IMF's top officials.

Pierre-Paul Schweitzer, the IMF managing director, told the delegates that the major industrial countries must work together in the coming months to make sure that money speculators don't cause another crisis while the reform process is under way.

FRESCOE IS UNCOVERED—Archaeologists have uncovered well-preserved frescoes in the home of a Pompeiian who perished in the A.D. 79 eruption of Vesuvius. They have known of the existence of the home of C. Julius Polybius since 1925 but because of time and financial limitation, only in the past five years have they started to excavate. The frescoe at left is a bacchante uncovered in the peri-style area of the home. At right, the painting of the household gods was discovered near the entrance to the kitchen. Professor Alfonso de Franciscis, superintendent of Pompeii Antiquities, believes that when excavation is completed the house "will undoubtedly stand forth as one of the most noble and interesting dwellings of Pompeii. (UPI TELEPHOTO)

Norway Voters Reject Common Market Membership

OSLO (UPI)—Prime Minister Trygve Bratteli conceded defeat today in his regime's efforts to get Norway into the European Common Market, and said the voters' rejection of the proposal meant his Labor government would resign.

Almost complete results from a two-day national referendum showed 53.6 per cent of the voters rejected membership in the Common Market while 46.4 per cent supported it.

Bratteli, 62, who has ruled Norway since March, 1971, replacing the four-party non-Socialist coalition which resigned after disagreement on the Common Market issue, appeared on television concede his defeat.

"I want to see the final results. But if this trend stands, Norway will not enter the Common Market. This means that the government will resign," he said.

Election experts said the votes still out can change little or nothing.

Bratteli, a soft-spoken politician who has worked himself up from blue-collar jobs, smiled for the first time for many hours as a reporter asked him whom he would recommend as a the new premier.

"I do not know that. Do you?," he said.

The 150-member Storting (parliament) will convene next Monday and Bratteli is then expected to formally announce his resignation. King Olav V will then appoint a premier-designate.

Political sources said it was unknown when a premier-designate will be appointed, but speculated that former Premier Per Borten, parliament leader of the Center party, will be a likely candidate. Borten would not discuss the issue.

Although the final decision on membership remains with the Storting, the parliament members earlier said they will follow the election results. Observers said the result created a serious political crisis.

The non-Socialist opposition is divided on Common Market membership and will face severe problems in forming a new government which must negotiate a free trade agreement with the market. The Conservatives have made it clear they will not join such a government. The Liberals and the Christian Peoples party include both market supporters and opponents, while the Center party, backed by the country's fishermen and farmers, are against membership.

No Thoughts of Retiring

75th Birthday for Pontiff

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Pope Paul VI turned 75 today, the age at which Roman Catholic bishops are supposed to hand in their resignations.

But the retirement rule is not binding on the pontiff as bishop of Rome.

"He would never resign today, if only to make it absolutely clear that a Pope is not subject to the retirement rule," one Vatican official told UPI.

The Vatican newspaper l'Osservatore Romano made retirement speculation sound even more unlikely Monday by expressing the prayer that "the Lord long preserve him (the Pope) at the helm of the faithful...and allow him to see the fruits of his labor."

Vatican sources said the Pope's birthday is a normal work day—starting with two early morning masses in his private chapel and a reading of newspapers and correspondence over a light breakfast, then on to a full day at his desk.

The day is not a festivity in the Vatican nor have any special events been planned.

The Vatican closes down for a day and pays homage to the pontiff on the anniversary of his coronation in June.

However, scores of congratulatory messages arrived at the Vatican for the Pope's birthday, one of the first being from President Tito of Yugoslavia.

The Pope's birthday comes after months of press speculation that he will quit because of unhappiness about the state of the Roman Catholic church.

One Italian magazine that was confidently forecasting the Pope's abdication earlier this year changed its mind and reported that the pontiff has now "resigned from his resignation plans."

Vatican officials denied the existence of a secret commission which, according to some news reports, had examined at the Pope's request the possibility of a papal resignation. The officials said a restricted group of theologians and canon lawyers has been examining the conclave system by which Roman Catholic pontiffs are elected, and the possibility of a papal resignation could form part of this study.

However, nothing prevents the Pope from stepping down whenever and however he likes. Canon 221 of the code of church law says a pontiff may resign without seeking anyone's permission. Only a handful of Popes has abdicated, the most famous being St. Celestine VI who resigned in December, 1294, after a reign of five months.

If the Pope were to resign, the "Camerlengo" (chamberlain)—in this case French Cardinal Jean Villot—would take over day-to-day running of the church until the election of a new pontiff.

Bella Hopes to Succeed Ryan

NEW YORK (AP) — Rep. Bella Abzug, wearing a floppy black hat as usual, chatted with bystanders and smiled easily when she spent one morning campaigning here last week outside a crowded subway station.

But the campaigning was for Sargent Shriver. For herself, Mrs. Abzug remained unusually subdued.

The question on everyone's mind was whether Mrs. Abzug — the flamboyant, finger-jabbing, raspy-voiced reformer — would seek the Democratic nomination for the seat of the late Rep. William F. Ryan.

The answer was yes.

But standing next to Shriver, she delayed that news, seeking a cushion of time. Would she care to discuss her political prospects, a reporter had asked. No, she said quietly, this day is for Shriver.

With the death of Ryan on Sept. 17, Mrs. Abzug had lost a long-time friend. He had also been her opponent in the most bitterly fought campaign of her career.

In a move that generated widespread dissension, Mrs. Abzug invaded Ryan's 20th Congressional District last spring after her own district was lost to reapportionment and challenged him for the Democratic nomination to the seat he had held for 11 years.

It was a grueling campaign. Ryan emerged the victor by a 2-1 margin in the June primary.

He died Sept. 17 of cancer.

Mrs. Abzug has emerged as a leading contender to succeed Ryan. She is the only candidate — among five mentioned — to actively campaign for the post.

Like Ryan, she is vehement in her opposition to the Vietnam war and a champion of women's rights.

Ryan's successor will be named this Sunday by a vote of 520 Democratic committeemen, two each from 260 elective districts. About 35 per cent of the committeemen will be drawn from Mrs. Abzug's old district, absorbed by the 20th District under reapportionment.

In her first public comment on her candidacy Monday, Mrs. Abzug told reporters, "I think my chances are very good." She said she thought she had no major opposition.

Others being mentioned as possible candidates include Ryan's widow, Priscilla; State Assemblyman Franz S. Leichter, a long-time Ryan supporter; attorney Paul O'Dwyer, the Democratic Senate nominee in 1968; and Rep. James Scheuer, like Mrs. Abzug apportioned out of his old district.

Nanette Gains Support in Court Race

NEW YORK (UPI) — Family Court Judge Nanette Dembitz, the first woman to run for the State Court of Appeals, received support Monday from several legal and professional groups.

Last Wednesday, the State Bar Association said she was "not qualified" for the post. And, Mrs. Dembitz, who finished second in a four-candidate June primary for three Democratic party nominations, called the state association's rating "ludicrous."

A statement by groups supporting Mrs. Dembitz demanded that the state association retract its statement and give her the rights to a "fair hearing" before the bar's House of Delegates.

Mrs. Dembitz "has been found qualified for the position of associate judge of the Court of Appeals by the Association of the Bar of the City of New York, the New York Women's Bar Association, the New York State Trial Lawyers Association" and others, the statement said.

The statement, signed by former Mayor Robert F. Wagner and others, said "while people may differ for personal or political reasons over the relative merits of candidatets, to claim that Judge Dembitz is not qualified would be absurd if it were not tragic."

It said the only contact Mrs. Dembitz had with the state bar in regards to her candidacy was a 15-minute interview with two men last March, before she was a candidate.

The statement added that Mrs. Dembitz was never interviewed by the committee nor was any information requested of her by the committee.

"Despite requests to do so," the statement said, "the association refuses to reveal the reasons for its action or even to disclose the criteria it applied to its evaluation of judicial candidates."

Wagner and others called upon the association to retract its statement and give Mrs. Dembitz a fair hearing.

"In order to avoid such a shocking situation in the future, we call upon the association to institute fair hearing procedures for the review of the qualifications of all judicial candidates and to make these procedures available to all candidates," the statement said.

'Kitten' Is Newsworthy

CINCINNATI (UPI)—Frances "Kitten" Natividad held a news conference Monday but it wasn't what she had to say that brought newsmen to the conference room of a local motor hotel.

"Kitten," 24, Miss Nude Cosmopolitan, held the news conference in the buff.

There was a noticeable lack of questions when Miss Natividad, 36-22-35, shrugged out of a tight floor-length dress.

Then some embarrassed queries were ventured.

Was she cold?

"I was cold when I first came into the room," she said, "but I'm not a bit cold now. Must be the TV lights."

She said she entered the Miss Nude Cosmopolitan contest in California because "I liked the idea of the $1,000 first prize."

Is she self-conscious undressing in front of strange men? Someone asked.

Facelifting Scheduled For Cruger's Island

ANNANDALE-ON-HUDSON — Cruger's Island, a 56-acre parcel near the shore at Annandale in the Hudson River, will receive a facelifting Saturday afternoon, Oct. 7.

According to Erik Kiviat, an assistant in natural history at Bard College who also is involved in research at the river field station there, the clean-up is being sponsored by the Bard College Natural History Club and Central Hudson Gas and Electric Company.

Central Hudson owns Cruger Island, and has been generous in allowing private individuals access to its wooded terrain in the past few years, and it has been a favorite haunt of many Bard College students. Ruins of early 19th century buildings may be found.

Kiviat related that, in speaking with Charles Rider of Central Hudson about a year ago, it was decided that motor vehicles by denied access along the dirt road that passes over Penn Central's railroad tracks, and a chain put up.

It was felt that it would be better for the wildlife and vegetation if cars were not allowed, as they were aiding soil erosion and contributing to litter.

Persons may still enter the island on foot. The purpose of the Oct. 7 clean-up is to remove what littler and garbage has accumulated, and everyone is invited to help with that task. The cleanup will begin at 1 p.m. at the railroad tracks, with Sunday set as a rain date.

Central Hudson has promised to remove a junk car lying in shallow water off shore, a monumental task, and Kiviat said that this is an opportunity for local people to become involved.

Red Hook Central Lists Fall Program

The fall program of Continuing Education at Red Hook Central School will begin the week of Oct. 2.

Interested persons may register by mail up to that time or in person Wednesday, Sept. 27 in the lobby of the high school from 7:30 to 9 p.m.

New courses included in the program are Beginning German, Cake Decoration, Understanding Learning Disabilities in Children, Judo, Driving Refresher for the Retired Person, Volleyball, Choral Singing, Electrical Repairs for the Homeowner, Chair Caning, Creative Stitchery, and Pattern Alteration.

Program folders should be available in most local stores by Sept. 20. Further information may be obtained by contacting Joseph H. Barnes, director of continuing education for adults.

AWARD BY MARIST COLLEGE — Vincent J. Stearns (L) receives a plaque of recognition from Dr. Linus R. Foy, president of Marist College, for his efforts with development of the Poughkeepsie campus. Stearns, a Poughkeepsie businessman, has been chairman of the President's Council since 1968. Among other activities he spearheaded the "Save the Pool" drive that raised funds to keep the Marist pool in use by students and various community groups.

Development Corporation Is Formed in Dutchess

POUGHKEEPSIE — A local development corporation has been formed under the auspices of the Poughkeepsie Area Chamber of Commerce, it was announced by Leon R. Bloom, Chamber president.

The corporation will be known as the Dutchess County Community Development Corporation. Papers of incorporation were signed in the Chamber offices at 80 Washington Street.

Joseph L. Petz, chairman of the New Business Committee of the Chamber, is corporation president and a member of the board of directors. Other directors are Charles Finnerman and Richard McCabe.

The purpose of the nonprofit corporation is to improve and stimulate business in general and the small business segment in particular by establishing a program to stimulate the flow of private equity capital and long term loans. This will be used for sound financing of the operations, growth, expansion and modernization of business concerns.

Businesses throughout Dutchess County will be eligible for state and federal programs not otherwise available.

The Small Business Administration and the New York Job Development Authority have special programs that are available only through a local development corporation.

Bombs by Mail

The latest outrage, the mailing of explosives to Israeli officials in various parts of the world, claimed one victim in London before the rest were alerted and thereby avoided opening their lethal packages. U.S. Customs personnel discovered three mailed to Israeli diplomatic and consular officials and defused the bombs before they could harm anyone.

The mailings were a stupid idea. In the present state of world communication, the character of the packages was immediately transmitted to all possible recipients. Only the most careless would be trapped once the plan became known. It created more bitterness, and accomplished little or nothing.

Meantime, the commandos in Syria, where they have a measure of freedom to operate, were feeling restricted. Their field of operation had been reduced, after 40 American "military experts" landed in next-door Lebanon to advise the Lebanese army how to crack down on the commandos. The experts had been flown from the American naval base in Greece.

Syria is another matter. There, Soviet military advisors are welcome. The commandos are well supplied with Soviet arms. Iraq makes common cause with the Syrians. With oil-wealthy Libya supplying the commandos with money, they are able to continue their activities.

The Soviet has seized on the Palestinian complaint to stir trouble for Israel. The commandos' fight for the homeland from which they have been expelled by the Israelis gives the Soviet a worthy cause for taking their side. It is a better case than most of those which the Soviet has sponsored in its constant effort to divide and conquer. The Soviet may have gotten a cause that stirs trouble and at the same time wins them loyalty.

Man for Law, Order

New York City's Patrolmen's Benevolent Association, representing the nation's biggest police force, has made the first presidential endorsement in its 78-year history. The endorsement described President Nixon as "the only law and order candidate for President."

The resolution charged that the Democratic Party "has been taken over by the radical left wing, making a mockery of the two-party system and includes some of the foremost proponents of a breakdown in law and order in America." And it criticized Senator George McGovern for "making a series of harmful and confusing policy statements on domestic and international affairs."

Robert McKiernan, PBA president, said Nixon has done "everything in his power to counteract the lawlessness that now exists in the country." His organization will not make a financial contribution to the Nixon campaign only because "we are not allowed to, by law."

The patrolmen were also enthusiastic about Nixon's record in Vietnam. The resolution commended the President "for demonstrating great skill in bringing the war in Vietnam to an honorable conclusion at the same time that he is keeping America strong."

Finally, the resolution praised Nixon for "continually seeking to bring the United States Supreme Court into some semblance of balance between permissive thinking, that has led to a breakdown in morality in America, and moderate thinking which would restore our courts to a position of dignity and respect."

All of these are matters that concern the police in their work of keeping law and order, but then aren't they also the very matters with which most of us are concerned? Law and order, moderate courts, permissiveness, morality, we should thank the police for singling out the very simple but essential things that make life worth living.

OPERATION CATCH UP — We've had Head Start and the new 3-and-4-year-old nursery schools, but the University of California's tutoring program, called "Operation Catch-up," has its own claim to fame. More than 200 university students provide 1,000 hours of individualized instruction each week to Sixth Graders in basic skills of reading and writing. The children double their rate of learning.

BERRY'S WORLD

"WOULD YOU BELIEVE IT? A kid with braces on his teeth just told me HIS VOTE is going to cancel out MINE!"

Jack Anderson Says

Depressed LBJ Awaits Fate

WASHINGTON—Those who have talked to Lyndon Johnson lately say he is calmly getting his affairs in order for an early demise.

When he's depressed, he sometimes muses aloud about the low life expectancy of the Johnson menfolk. He recalls that his father died of a heart attack in his early sixties. A similar fate, suggests LBJ, now 64, probably awaits him.

As evidence that he believes his own dire speculation, he is quietly setting his estate in order. He sold the family TV interests, subject to government approval, for about $9 million. He is also withdrawing from business interests that require his active supervision and looking for investments that won't create problems for his heirs.

"He looks five moves down the chessboard," an intimate told us. "He doesn't want his wife and children to be left with any hard decisions."

The former President has withdrawn almost completely from the spotlight since he left the White House. He won't talk to the press, won't respond to attacks, won't even permit his friends to draw him into a discussion of national affairs.

This is so uncharacteristic of the Lyndon Johnson who dominated Washington for five years that he has become, in retirement, a mystery man. For an insight into this strange, new Johnson, we spoke to half a dozen of his closest friends who have kept in touch with him. We agreed to withhold their identities in return for their frank answers.

LBJ's Pains

They generally agree that Johnson went through severe withdrawal pains as the presidential power slowly slipped from his fingers four years ago. He departed Washington feeling he was a maligned and misunderstood man.

The angry antiwar protestors didn't seem to understand, in his view, that he really cared. They were never told how he stayed awake nights to check on American casualties. When soldiers in Vietnam wrote to him, he personally answered their letters. "He would spend as much time on them as he did on a document to the secretary of state," recalls a former aide.

Nor had any previous President sponsored so much social legislation. Dwight Eisenhower left 45 social programs on the books, costing just under $10 billion (B) a year. When Johnson departed, there were 435 programs with a yearly price tag of more than $25 billion (B).

He pushed through John Kennedy's voting rights law, which enfranchised millions of blacks in the South. Johnson began the war on poverty, aimed at ending hunger and ignorance. There was a model cities program to cure urban ills, medicare for the elderly and medicaid for the needy.

He felt his critics overlooked these giant achievements and emphasized instead his Texas mannerisms and his wheeler-dealer politics. He was disappointed when the poor and the downtrodden didn't hail him as their savior.

After he left the White House, recall friends, he plunged into work on the LBJ library.

The criticism of his war policies, meanwhile, reached new crescendos. Not only did he start reflecting on the low Johnson life expectancy, but he began chain-smoking the cigarettes he had given up after his 1955 heart attack.

He also ate his way up to 235 pounds.

Calories and Cigarillos

Inevitably, he was struck earlier this year with another seizure. Now he must keep an inhalor handy for occasional quick breaths of oxygen. A house servant with an eye on the clock also brings him a pill and a glass of water at regular intervals.

He negotiated with his doctor and finally agreed to give up cigarettes for less frequent cigarillos. And he has brought his weight down to 209 pounds.

His attitude, meanwhile, has become almost serene. He no longer betrays the least concern over criticism nor bitterness over the nation's seeming ingratitude.

One friend describes LBJ's attitude toward his critics as "turning the other cheek."

"He's not mad at anybody," shrugs another.

Agrees still another: Johnson "feels that his record is there, that his deeds will remain after the criticism has faded, that history will vindicate him."

All the intimates who talked to us about Johnson remarked on his amazing new magnanimity. But one suggested that "all the hate-Johnson stories must hurt the old man inside."

Those who visit him down on the Pedernales say, except for his occasional morbid moods, he seems to be enjoying retirement. He starts on the ranch, takes off when he pleases to look at the deer or inspect the grass. "This is the first time in 40 years I am making my own schedule," he says happily.

Friends have been unable to get much out of him on the presidential election, except that he had a good visit with George McGovern and that McGovern treated him "with affection and respect."

His own term in the White House, he has said, was a "sobering experience." He seems quite satisfied, meanwhile, to let history be his judge.

Future Look on $$

WASHINGTON—While the headlines are focused on presidential nominees and campaign developments, there is a tremendous amount of work being done at Washington by various departments and by Congressional committees to deal with huge financial problems which will confront a growing population in the next four years.

Some emphasis has been given to revenue sharing by the federal government with the states and cities, which will start getting big sums from Washington in the next few weeks. Projects are under way to bring about constructive changes in the tax laws. Steps are being taken to make a number of other improvements, too. Thus, for instance, Social Security recipients will soon start to get larger checks monthly from the government.

There are, of course, reforms needed in different categories such as regulation of private-pension plans. One measure which has been approved by a Senate committee would tighten the rules on pensions, with three objectives:

First, to make sure that more people hereafter do receive the pension benefits to which they are entitled.

Second, to improve various provisions in many pension plans by reducing the period during which an employe must work before being eligible for benefits.

Third, to set up new ways to protect the cash in pension-fund reserves, with insurance to cover benefits if a plan is ended before a full funding has been reached.

This is a bipartisan bill which probably will be debated in the Senate shortly, though it is doubtful whether it will be ready for passage until next year.

More than $150 billion in assets are held by pension plans, and these are designed to benefit 30,000,000 individuals. The big question always is how the funds shall be invested—whether in corporate bonds or in common stocks. The recent trend has been toward the latter. In 1971, the assets of non-insured pensions were 68 per cent in common stocks, up from 43 per cent in 1960. Coprorate and other bonds made up 39 per cent of the pension reserves in 1960 but now are down to 21 per cent. Government-bond holdings have dropped from 7 per cent to 2 per cent.

Heavy investment in stocks has raised questions as to whether the huge pension funds may not influence stock-market prices and also as to whether pension reserves might be wiped out in a market crash. These are problems that confront investors in trust funds of all kinds.

In the case of pension funds, there are other difficulties, too. Many workers forfeit their rights under a plan if they leave their jobs or are discharged, while others lose out when mergers occur or employers shut down operations. Obviously, there is need for regulation in order to protect employes against inadequate provisions in some pension plans.

Improvements in the pension plans themselves would be made by the proposed bill. A worker who remains in a job for eight years would obtain a 30 per cent "vested" right to pension benefits. After 15 years of service, his "vesting" would be complete. There would be provisions to aid anyone who was 45 years old when the bill became effective so that he or she would be given credit for service prior to that date. Other changes have been suggested so that a worker who goes from one job to another would carry certain rights with him or her if the new job also is covered by a pension plan.

A federal official speaks of the private pension plan funds as constituting "the largest sum of unregulated capital in the United States." The effort now is to bring them under stringent rules.

The proposed legislation will certainly be of far-reaching importance to put into effect a set of provisions to safeguard the billions of dollars which are now in retirement funds and to protect the workers' rights to them.

Various other measures related to the finances of the government will come before Congress after the election. The effort to reduce expenses which is going on is expected to make it possible to cut the present deficit and to avoid having to increase taxes. The administration is determined to do everything it can to make any raise in taxes unnecessary, and it can do so only if nonessential expendidures are eliminated and tax revenues are stimulated by better economic conditions.

Housing Issue at the Top

WASHINGTON — An issue bigger than busing, more emotional than the war in Vietnam and more vexing then taxes is slowly emerging from the swamp of Congressional lassitude.

In the next several weeks the House and Senate will decide whether to pass a housing bill that will further restrict the housing opportunities of low-income people in the suburbs. The alternative may well be to kill the entire $10.5 billion bill and stall off housing reforms until 1973.

Congressmen don't like to tackle such heavy issues in the closing weeks of election time, so the latter possibility seems stronger.

The House Banking and Currency Committee has approved a bill demanding that local town officials retain a veto power over Federally-subsidized housing projects. The legislation would reverse a five-year trend in the Housing and Urban Development Department that rewards and encourages metropolitan area planning of housing needs.

All the warnings of the Kerner Commission report and other doomsday documents that warned of the possibilities of apartheid in America were rejected by the House committee.

Suburbia's own housing needs — for firemen, policemen and other low-income suburbanites — will also be more difficult to meet under the proposed bill.

As job opportunities decrease in cities and increase in the suburbs, the housing problem intensifies. Despite a muted protest by HUD officials, the White House was silent on the new bill. No presidential lobbyists spoke against it.

On May 8, 1969, presidential counselor Daniel Patrick Moynihan told a Syracuse University convocation that "the poverty and social isolation of minority groups is the single most serious problem of the American city today." But that was in 1969, not an election year, and Moynihan is no longer a White House counselor.

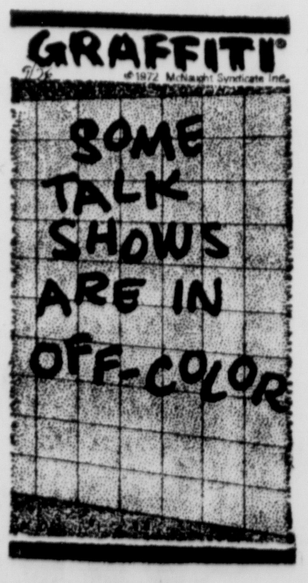

The housing bill also sought to curb abuses that have led to widespread scandal in Federal housing programs and was passed in the committee, 19-3. Many of the more active and articulate housing spokesmen on the committee abstained because of the bill's mixed blessings. Reps. Henry Reuss, D-Wis., Thomas Ashley, D.-Ohio, Margaret Heckler, R.-Mass., and Parren Mitchell, D.-Md., found the bill saddled with contradictory amendments. The bill provides, for instance, greatly increased aid for mass transit.

The reason the bill has been delayed for five months is that ancient Congressional tradition of jurisdictional squabbling. The Banking and Currency Committee chairman, Wright Patman, D.-Tex., was brimming with pique because the chairman of the housing subcommittee, William Barrett, D.-Pa., had overstepped the bounds of unwritten House protocols of power.

As of now, the Senate seems unlikely to agree to the House version of the bill. The House itself may not wish to argue in too long and too loud a voice so close to election time.

State agencies like the New York Urban Development Corporation in New York have found the matter of low-income housing in the suburbs as inflamatory as busing is supposed to be. Westchester County's politics is a volcano of resentment over a state plan to build 900 units of such housing in nine widely-scattered towns.

In the next two weeks amid White House silence Congress will decide or delay an issue and a bill bigger than busing, bigger because it hits people not where their kids go to school, but literally where they live.

Mid-Hudson Montessori School

Dedicated to Early Education, Respect for the Child

By WADE BURKHART

GARDINER — The Mid-Hudson Montessori School is dedicated to early childhood education, and respect for the child, according to Mrs. Esther Bushman, the school's director.

The school, a nursery-kindergarten, is being operated in the education building of the Gardiner Reformed Church.

The Montessori method of education is used in the school. The method's techniques were developed by Maria Montessori, an Italian doctor whose success in educating retarded children led her to educationg normal children. Mrs. Montessori eventually devoted her life to education.

According to Mrs. Bushman, the fundamental principle in the Montessori method is "respect for the child."

Children from birth to about six years of age have a tremendous capacity for learning, she said. Mrs. Bushman pointed out that two of the achievements of a person's life are usually accomplished before the age of two — learning to speak a language, and standing up and walking.

Children in early childhood have a "tremendous capacity for concentration," Mrs. Bushman said, and can benefit greatly from a proper early childhood education. Her idea of a proper early childhood education is the Montessori method.

The Montessori method employs a number of what appear to be toys, but Mrs. Bushman said they are much more than toys. She said they teach more, and are actually more fun.

When properly used, the toys are "non-frustrating," she said. Every child should have "a reasonable chance of success" before being allowed to play with a particular toy.

A Montessori teaching room is set up as a "children's house," said Mrs. Bushman. It is divided into various educational areas, such as sensorial, practical life, reading, and art. The apparatus in each of the areas is designed to further the basic educational end, but often a variety of subjects can be taught under any one major subject.

Even in teaching a single subject, the Montessori toys use a variety of means. The Montessori "sandpaper letters," formed from sandpaper placed on a smooth tile, are an example. The child can see the letter, get a better idea of its shape by feeling it, and by tracing the letter with his fingers learns the basics of writing the letter.

Instruction is carried on in large groups, small groups, or individually.

Mrs. Bushman said a properly trained Montessori teacher can interpret a child's behavior, seeing to it that a child is learning what he wants or is able to learn.

Mrs. Bushman said her training includes a degree in psychology from Ohio State University, and a year of study at the Assumption Montessori Training Center in Philadelphia. Mrs. Bushman said she studied under Mother Isabella, a friend and student of Maria Montessori's. Mrs. Bushman said her own Montessori certificate was signed by Mario Montessori, Maria Montessori's son.

She presently has 12 students, ranging in age from two and one-half to four and one-half, and she said she hoped to expand to 24 children. The mixture of ages is very important, Mrs. Bushman said. It teaches a child to get along in a larger community, with varying age groups, just as in real life.

In the Montessori method, children are taught to be individually responsible. Mrs. Bushman said what was sought was "a higher form of freedom," where an individual could act with respect for others and his environment.

According to Mrs. Bushman, children in early childhood don't really play. They are constantly doing things to advance their own learning. She saw that as the children's "work" at that age. As a child uses the carefully designed Montessori toys, the child is teaching himself.

The Mid-Hudson Montessori School is the second in Ulster County. The first is in Woodstock, operated by Mrs. Jesse Berchenko.

Heads State Training Unit

POUGHKEEPSIE — Dutchess County DA Albert M. Rosenblatt has been named chairman of a committee of the New York State District Attorney's Association to formulate a curriculum for training all assistant district attorneys in New York State.

Rosenblatt, vice president of that association, said that the association has received a federal grant for the purpose of instituting training seminars for assistant prosecutors in the state.

He commented, "there is a great need for constant training and review in the field of criminal law and we will endeavor to provide assistant district attorneys with this type of knowledge and training," adding that recent developments in criminal law must be reviewed so that they may carry out their functions "with expertise and with equity."

Rosenblatt said he expected that two such training seminars will be held, one in Syracuse for the upstate region and one in New York City for the downstate area.

Working with the Dutchess DA will be New York County Assistant District Attorney and Appeals Bureau Chief Michael Juviler; Westchester County Chief Assistant DA Thomas Facello; and association President John O'Hara and Executive Director Richard Freeman.

Why is a Piggy Bank better than a Checking Account?

Well, you can't overdraw a piggy bank. But neither one is very good as a place to keep spare money. Put yours in a Triple D-W account with US, where it'll grow at 5% compounded continuoUSly. You can withdraw at any time without losing back interest

A checking account is convenient, but it's a poor place to keep money you won't need right away. A Triple D-W with US will put that money to work for YOU

Magistrates Hear Talks On Legislation

ACCORD

Members of the New York State Association of Magistrates heard three state officials discuss recent legislation affecting them as they opened their two-day state convention at the Granit II Hotel last night.

Motor Vehicle Commissioner Vincent L. Tofany discussed recent legislation affecting motor vehicles for the assembly of town and village justices from throughout the state, relating in particular the effect such legislation has on justice courts.

Richard Bolton, counsel to the New York State Police, discussed search warrants and their issuance. Thomas F. McCoy, state administrator of courts, spoke on the new justice training program that requires town and village justices to attend a course of training when they first take office and now requires another in-service training course every time the justice is reelected for another term.

The in-service training program, comprised of at least 14 hours of classroom sessions and a final examination, was begun Monday night and continues today so justices attending the convention can complete their schooling requirements there.

The convention concludes with a banquet and election of officers tonight. Eugene Salisbury of Buffalo will succeed Oliver H. McGraw of Moravia as president for the coming year. Edwin Lowey of Hempstead, second vice president, Elston Van Alstine of Cammillus, third vice president, and James E. Lamb of Nassau, fourth vice president, each move up one step. A new fourth vice president will be named at tonight's banquet.

Salisbury said that four of six candidates for the Court of Appeals have indicated that they will attend tonight's banquet.

Dem Canvass Begins Tonight

ELLENVILLE

Town of Wawarsing Democratic Party's voter canvass of the Ellenville area will begin at 7 tonight in order to reach every person of voting age on behalf of Democratic-Liberal candidate Maurice Hinchey who is seeking a seat in the Assembly in the new 101st District and Presidential candidate George McGovern.

Hinchey was the guest speaker recently at the opening of the Town of Wawarsing Democratic Headquarters at 8½ Market Street, Ellenville.

Hinchey stressed the fact that he will be a full time representative. If elected Nov. 7 he will serve the people of Ulster County full time, 12 months a year, he said.

Hinchey stated, "My opponent's record is a key issue in this campaign. He has opposed virtually every piece of progressive legislation introduced in the state assembly. In fact he has proposed several pieces of politically regressive legislation of his own. He attempted to intoduce a bill which would have limited the participation of public employes in the American political system."

Bell to Address Group

KINGSTON

Assemblyman H. Clark Bell will address a meeting of the Shawangunk Kennel Club at Jake's Restaurant on Greenkill Avenue tonight at 7:30, in Kingston.

Assemblyman Bell will discuss the new proposed offering of the State Department of Agriculture and Markets regarding the care and maintenance of dogs.

Assemblyman Bell, in past sessions of the legislature, has introduced the so-called "anivmal bill of rights." The bill was successfully passed in the Assembly but failed to pass in the State Senate. Assemblyman Bell believes that the humane treatment of animals is a social issue of high priority.

Story Hour

A free story hour program for Clinton residents is being planned for this Fall for three and four-year-olds not attending nursery school. The date, time and place for the story hour sessions will be determined by response to the proposal. Interested parents may call Mrs. Wilfred (Helen) Relyea, Tobin Drive, Clinton Corners.

FATIGUED — Comedian Jimmy Durante was admitted to St. John's Hospital Sunday suffering from fatigue and overwork, his wife, Margie, announced Monday in Santa Monica, Calif. Durante, 79, had just completed an appearance on "The Sonny and Cher Comedy Hour" after a strenuous appearance in Las Vegas. Mrs. Durante said her husband would remain hospitalized for a week's rest. (UPI)

Tourist Group

A general meeting of the Bi-County Tourist Association, including parts of Ulster County, will be held Wednesday, Sept. 27, at Rip Van Winkle Country Club, Route 23A, Palenville, starting 8 p.m. Refreshments will be served.

Election Inspectors' School Held

KINGSTON

About 580 Ulster County election inspectors attended a school held Monday night at the George Washington School and conducted by the Commissioners of Election, according to Edwin Callahan, deputy commissioner of elections.

The inspectors were instructed by Commissioners Seymour Werbalowsky and Joseph Epstein in registration and voting procedures. The inspectors were also given an examination to test their knowledge.

Board Meeting

The Board of Fire Commissioners of the West Hurley Fire District No. 1 will meet at the West Hurley Firehall on the second Tuesday of each month during October, November and December instead of the regular meeting nights. Millard H. Rowe, chairman of the board, said the change is being made at the request of two members of the board who will be attending the Medical Emergency Technicians course on the regularly scheduled meeting nights. Members of the board are Arthur Backmann, Fred Myers, Robert Short, Willard Walker and Rowe.

Telephone Seminar Scheduled

KINGSTON

The Chamber of Commerce of Ulster County and the New York Telephone Company will present a cooperative seminar on telephone usage on Tuesday, Oct. 17.

The seminar will be held in the Garden Lounge of the Governor Clinton Hotel and will run from 9:30 a.m. to noon.

Len Cane, the Chamber's executive vice president, said that a film will be shown illustrating the various do's and dont's of telephone usage, followed by a practical application session. Personnel who answer busines phones are often the initial contact between business and customer and particular attention will be given to that aspect of telephone usage, Cane said.

The seminar is free to Chamber members. Other companies may participate by paying a $2.50 registration fee. All participants must be registered at the Chamber of Commerce office by Friday, Oct. 13, in order to participate.

Three Firemen Injured in Truck Mishap

TOWN OF SAUGERTIES

Three volunteer firemen from the Centerville Fire Department were injured shortly before 4:30 p.m. Monday when the water tank truck on which they were riding went out of control and rolled over snapping off a utility pole on Fish Creek Road about three-quarters of a mile south of Route 212 in this township.

Town Police Chief Robert J. Riley said the 1965 fire truck was operated by John C. Paige of Saugerties. The apparatus was going south on the road en route to a brush fire off the Glasco Turnpike when a wheel apparently dropped off the pavement causing the tanker to go out of control.

Chief Riley reported the vehicle rolled over and hit the utility pole, breaking it. A power failure resulted.

Paige was taken to Benedictine Hospital by Saugerties Ambulance Service and treated for severe lacerations of the head and multiple bruises.

Two other volunteer firemen on the truck at the time of the mishap were identified by Chief Riley as Kenneth A. Snyder and Alexander Butta both of this community. They said they would see their own physician for examination and treatment.

Riley said the fire truck was virtually wrecked. The vehicle is owned by the Centerville Fire District.

The brush fire was subsequently extinguished by fire units from Mt. Marion and Ruby, it was reported.

Crews from Central Hudson were summoned to the scene to replace the utility pole and fallen wires and restore service to customers in the immediate area.

With a Line of Credit checkbook, you can write yourself a loan whenever you need extra money. So if you come across an opportunity that won't wait, you won't have to wait. Just write a check.

You don't have to worry about filling out a new application every time you use it. And you don't have to worry about getting in over your head, either. We won't let you do that.

Every month we'll send you a statement showing just how much you've borrowed. You can pay it back all at once or just a little at a time. Naturally, you only pay interest on what you borrow.

We think money should be there when you need it. After all, a great buy isn't a great buy if you don't buy it.

Ulster County CSEA, Legislature Begin Negotiations

KINGSTON — John Ray Mayone, president of the Ulster County Civil Service Employes Association, announced today that his unit of the County Legislature will begin negotiations today.

The Ulster County employes are currently completing a two-year contract and any new negotiations will become effective as of Jan. 1, 1973.

A list of proposals and demands has been presented to the Legislature, and this meeting will be the initital one between the two groups.

The CSEA negotiation team is headed by Hyman Kohan from the Department of Social Services. Other members, in addition to Mayone, include: Mrs. Marie Gotelli, Infirmary; John Donarumma, Probation Department; Harold Pinckney, Health Department; Troy Porter, Community College non-professicnal employes.

Also, Mrs. Judy Murray, a past CSEA president, will assist the committee and Daniel Jinks, a professional negotiator from CSEA's Albany Headquarters, will work with the committee.

Ulster County Unit of CSEA is the official bargaining agent for all county employes, with the exception of the Community College faculty and some other professional workers there.

The proposals and demands submitted to the County Legislature were compiled after a comprehensive survey of all county employes, in which each was requested to give his suggestions as to what benefits or working improvements he thought should be solicited.

The Committee has been meeting for several weeks trying to determine the final list to be submitted, and the final demands represent their best thinking of what will best suit the interests of the employes as well as the County of Ulster, Mayone said.

Senator McGovern wants to slash $32 billion from our defense.

Even his fellow Democrats say that would make us a second-class power.

Look at what one of his prominent fellow-Democrats–Senator Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota–has said:

"Senator McGovern is proposing a 40 per cent cut in our defense forces–cutting the Navy in half, and the Air Force by more than half–without any similar disarmament agreement from the Russians. It shocks me. No responsible President would think of cutting our defenses back to the level of a second-class power in the face of the expanding Russian Navy and Air Force..."

We Democrats–joined by millions of others across the country–agree with Senator Humphrey on this crucial issue. And we recognize that 1972 is the kind of Presidential year in which we've got to put our country ahead of our party in choosing between the election of Senator McGovern and the re-election of President Nixon.

We know President Nixon to be a man who insists on a defense that's second to none because he believes that peace can only be achieved–and maintained–through strength. Thus he makes sense when he says we can cut the fat in the military budget but not the meat, which is what a $32 billion cut would mean.

To millions of Democrats, that's the sort of thinking that has enabled America to remain a first-class power. And that's why we'll be voting this year for the President instead of Senator George McGovern.

This committee is not involved in any congressional, state or local elections.)

Democrats for Nixon Committee:

JOHN B. CONNALLY
Chairman, Democrats for Nixon

JENO F. PAULUCCI
Vice Chairman, Independents for Nixon

We are putting country above political party. We ask you to join us and to vote for President Nixon on Nov. 7th.

Service Center Protects Family Life

KINGSTON — Human and social problems of families in Ulster County is the concern of the Family Service Center the 14th of the 15 United Way of Ulster County agencies. An arm of the Children's Home in Kingston, its purpose is "strengthen and protect family life."

The Family Service Center is a social agency committed to providing service of the highest profession of standards and practice committed to help any family in Ulster County who is experiencing difficulties of a personal or inter-personal nature. The services are offered without restrictions to ethnic origin, economic status or religious persuasion. Fees are determined by the individual or families ability to pay, and should deter no one from seeking help.

Families or individuals with problems may seek help for themselves or are referred to the center by physicians, ministers, lawyers, the Family Court, Ulster County Department of Social Services or other social agencies. A close relationship also exists with the Mental Health Center and its staff, each referring circumstances to the other when it's deemed appropriate.

The staff of the center, a full-time and a part-time professional worker provide direct services to individuals and families through face-to-face contacts on a weekly, by-weekly or monthly basis. Among the types of situations dealt with are husbands and wives whose marital discord is disrupting family life, parents and children who are mutually unhappy in their relationships with each other, the unmarried parent, mother and father, who need help in clarifying their course of action.

The total range of human social problems are the concern of the staff, Mrs. Vivian McMichael and Paul Treanor both of whom are dedicated to helping others help themselves.

In addition to helping individuals and families, the staff addresses itself to a wide range of human and social problems through their participation in the Council of Social Agencies and in the Planning Committee of the United Way of Ulster County. They also seek to anticipate and recognize trends in social problems and help develop answers before these needs are too great. The primary professional discipline of the center is social work. There are, however, a number of consultants available, and these include psychologists, financial experts, lawyers, psychiatrists and other medical specialists.

At present there are approximately 60 individuals and or families who are seen three or four, or more times monthly. In addition about 20 are seen once a month or less frequently. Referrals from other agencies and services are made weekly, and some immediate help and information is offered by staff members in emergency situations. The agency also handles situations involving court appearance in behalf of clients, arranging for placements outside the home should this be necessary.

A recent break-down revealed that about half the situations involved marital problems; including separated and divorced couples. About 25 per cent involved parent-child relationships, the remaining situations involved elderly individuals, unmarried mothers, distraught individuals and unhappy teen-agers.

Confidentiality of the client is strictly adhered to and no breach in this relationship is tolerated.

The Board of Directors of the Children's Home of Kingston and the staff of the Family Service Center urge all to participate fully in the United Way of Ulster County Fund Raising Campaign, for it is through the United Way that the 15 agencies can continue their work.

It sure doesn't look like an economy car.

Model illustrated, $2399.00, equipped with special trim package, sports steering wheel, slot-style wheels and Polyglas tires, optional at extra cost. Prices subject to change without notice.

And it sure doesn't act like one. The big 6-cylinder engine makes it fly. The steering is quick and precise.

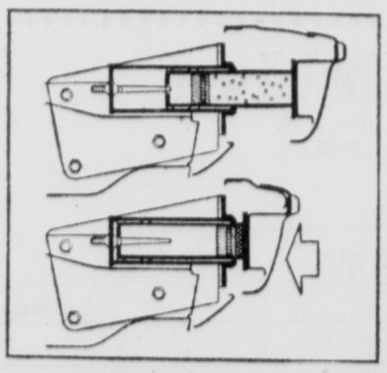

When you need extra cargo space, the back seats fold down so you can load up through the hatch for a long vacation.

You see, the Hornet Hatchback is really a sports car with room to travel in. A car that does everything a sports car should do.

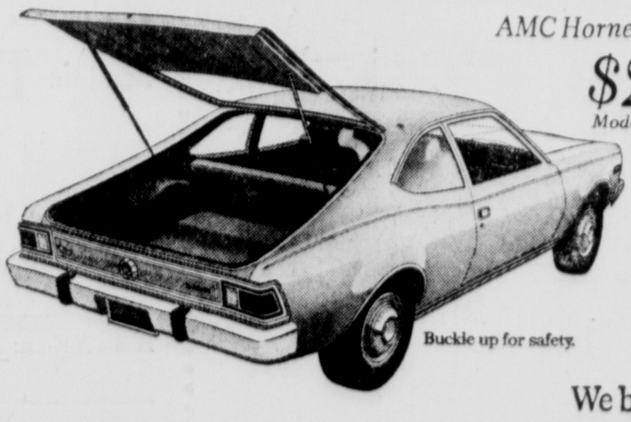

It moves like one. It handles like one, but it doesn't cost like one.

It comes standard with a piece of equipment no other economy car has, The Buyer Protection Plan.

Only American Motors makes this promise: The Buyer Protection Plan backs every '73 car we build and we'll see that our dealers back that promise.

The new energy absorbing bumper system on Hornet telescopes the front bumper as much as 3 inches and returns to normal after repeated 5 mile per hour barrier impacts. It's one of the most advanced systems in the industry.

Buckle up for safety.

AMC Hornet Hatchback

Manufacturer's suggested retail price, state and local taxes excluded. Destination charges and options extra.

AMERICAN MOTORS BUYER PROTECTION PLAN
1. A simple, strong guarantee, just 101 words! When you buy a new 1973 car from an American Motors dealer, American Motors Corporation guarantees to you that, except for tires, it will pay for the repair or replacement of any part it supplies that is defective in material or workmanship. This guarantee is good for 12 months from the date the car is first used or 12,000 miles, whichever comes first. All we require is that the car be properly maintained and cared for under normal use and service in the fifty United States or Canada, and that guaranteed repairs or replacement be made by an American Motors dealer.
2. A free loaner car from almost every one of our dealers if guaranteed repairs take overnight.
3. Special Trip Interruption Protection.
4. And a toll free hot line to AMC Headquarters.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

Silver Anniversary

MR. AND MRS. STEVE ZODA of Hamilton Court, Port Ewen, were guests of honor at a party Saturday, Sept. 16 at the Capri 400 Restaurant, Port Ewen. The occasion marked the couple's 25th wedding anniversary. Married Sept. 14, 1947 by the late Rev. Henry Herdegen at St. Peter's Church in Kingston, they were attended by Mrs. Charles Bock of Port Ewen and Ernest Amarello of Kingston. Mr. and Mrs. Zoda have a son, John, a student at Marist College. Approximately 40 guests were in attendance at the gala. (Dutchmen Enterprises)

Valentine Magee Betrothal Told

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Valentine of Box 11, Creek Locks Road, Rosendale, announce the engagement of their daughter, Loretta Marie, to George J. Magee, son of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Magee of Box 148, Bloomington.

Both the bride-elect and her fiance are 1972 graduates of Kingston High School.

A November 4 wedding is being planned.

A shower for Miss Valentine was held recently. Many gifts were received from relatives and friends.

KINGSTON AAUW — Guest speaker at the dinner-meeting of the Kingston Branch of the American Association of University Women in the Senate Room of the Kirkland Hotel Tuesday, Sept. 19 was Mrs. Harold Behr of Hyde Park, second from left. Her topic was "How to Formulate Policy and Develop an Effective Program." The New York State Division legislative chairman is pictured with (L-R) Mrs. Glenwood C. Scanlon, hospitality co-chairman; Mrs. Fritz Fiedler, first vice president in charge of programs; and Mrs. Clifton Hyman, legislative chairman for the Kingston branch. (Freeman photo by Haines)

County Legal Secretaries Hold Recent Dinner Meeting

Ulster County Legal Secretaries held their monthly dinner meeting Wednesday, Sept. 20 at Williams Lake Hotel. Mrs. Uldine Rauner presided in the absence of Mrs. Karen Bitonte, president.

Guest speaker was Judith Krom, assistant dean of the Rochester Learning Center for Empire State College at Rochester. Miss Krom spoke on Continuing Education, and the new concept of continuing education in the Empire State College which is part of the New York State College units and accredited.

She explained that a contract is drawn between the mentor and student in the subject which the student wishes to pursue. An associate degree may be obtained in 18 months and a Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science degree in three years.

There is no campus and no courses or classes. The student tells the mentor what he wishes to study and may obtain credits by reading books, writing papers and research projects.

The student is evaluated by prior experience and credits from other colleges he may have attended. A student learns on his own without a formal education program. Tuition is low and financial aid is available. Miss Krom stated that persons should be constantly learning new things by reading, thinking and analyzing and applying that knowledge to every day life.

It was announced at the meeting that Mrs. Karen Bitonte will attend the State Board Meeting in Chautauqua County on September 28-29. All-purpose cards were distributed to members by Maria Fabiano.

Reservations are being accepted by Mrs. Vera Elliott for tickets to two plays in New York: "Jesus Christ Super Star" and "Two Men from Verona." A bus has been chartered for Saturday, Nov. 11. Dinner will take place after the matinee at Mama Leone's Restaurant.

Mrs. Michelle Schwerdtfeger, program chairman, announced that Jack Reynolds of the Ulster County Treasurer's Office, Real Property Department, will speak on the "New Tax Structure for Kingston" at the October 18 dinner meeting. Location of the dinner will be announced in the October bulletin.

Plans for the Christmas party were discussed also.

Amputee's Dilemma: Buying One Shoe

Dear Abby

BY ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Mine is a rather unusual problem, but I do hope you will answer it because I don't know where else to turn. Is there some place where a person can buy only ONE shoe instead of a pair? Also, is there a place where one can turn in the unused shoe he has for one foot?

For a person who is minus one leg this is a real problem. He ends up with many extra shoes for the one foot he doesn't have.

For all the people you will help if you answer this, I say, "Thank you."

ODD PROBLEM

DEAR ODD: There was such a "shoe exchange" in Santa Monica, Cal., but I am informed that they are no longer in business. I'll publish your letter, and if there is such a place elsewhere, I promise you, we'll locate it. Readers?

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are very friendly with another couple about our age. (Mid-twenties.) One evening the wife went into our bathroom and when she came out I happened to notice that the bottle of capsules in my medicine cabinet had been moved to another place. I counted them, and four capsules were missing. My doctor had prescribed these capsules which are quite powerful, and not obtainable without a prescription.

I was concerned, so I got my husband to take her husband for a walk and then I confronted her with the situation. She swore up and down she hadn't taken any of the capsules, but I know she did. She was pregnant at the time. The next time she came over I made sure the capsules were hidden, but the following time she dropped in unexpectedly and I wasn't able to hide them. Sure enough, she took three more because I always keep track of how many there are in the bottle.

What should I do? Tell her husband about it? This friend has had a drug problem and I am concerned for her.

ADVICE NEEDED

DEAR ADVICE: Tell her husband, and let him tell her doctor. This is no time for silence. Your friend's health is your business.

DEAR ABBY: I know this is the wrong time of the year to discuss football widows, whose husbands are rooted in front of the television, but if you print this, maybe they will remember my letter this fall and be a little more thankful.

I have been married only four months. My husband is a forest fighter with the U.S. Forest Service and tonight is the third fire this week, and today was supposed to be his day off, too.

I used to like to sit and watch storms but now I loathe them because I know the lightning will cause fires.

We live 28 miles from the nearest town of any size and our nearest friends are 15 miles away. I have nothing to keep me company in the evenings, and half the night I sit and chew my nails and sacred to death listening to "night noises."

Those football widows are lucky to have their husbands home where they can see them and know they are safe!

"A FOREST SERVICE WIDOW IN OREGON"

DEAR WIDOW: No television? No radio? No books? No sewing? Sitting around, chewing your nails and listening to the "night noises" while you feel sorry for yourself will only make the night seem longer and lonelier. Find something to occupy your mind while your husband is doing his thing. At least you know where he is and what he's doing.

Problems? Trust Abby. For a personal reply, write to ABBY, BOX 69700, L.A., CALIF. 09969 and enclose a stamped addressed envelope.

Hate to write letters? Send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069, for Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions."

HAND BLOCK PRINTING with oils on linens for tablecloths, placemats and draperies will be demonstrated by Joyce Orser at the upcoming Arts and Crafts Show on the grounds of the Dutchess County Fairgrounds. Sponsored by the Northern Dutchess Hospital Mothers' Club, the show will be conducted three days—September 29, 30 and Oct. 1. Items made with the block printing methods will be available on order. Public is invited. (Freeman photo by Powell)

Look Here, Homemaker!

BREAD AND FILLINGS FOR SANDWICHES

Sandwich time is here now and many youngsters will be taking their lunches to school. Unless shoppers are careful, they can fall into a pattern of buying the same kinds of breads and spreads for those sandwiches, says Phyllis W. Barlow, Extension Home Economist.

Try whole wheat, pumpernickel, oatmeal, and other dark-grained breads in place of the regular white loaves. These darker breads have a chewier texture that combines well with the softer fillings, such as cream cheese, peanut butter, and American cheese. Rolls, buns, and Italian or French loaves are bread selections that make cold cuts and cheese sandwiches taste different.

When you are shopping for breads, you will want to note how much the bread costs on a per pound basis. You will find that sliced white bread sold in larger size loaves is often the least expensive bread per pound. The large chain supermarkets pack rye, pumpernickel, and whole wheat breads under their own labels, and these loaves are but a few cents more costly per pound than regular bread.

Rolls and French loaves are often the most expensive per pound, about twice the cost of sliced white bread. You can economize by using lowcost spreads or fillings for the more costly bread choices.

If you make sandwiches for box lunches day after day, chances are you are going to run out of ideas for sandwich fillings after a while. Here are two suggestions for low-cost sandwich-makings that come from the sea.

Canned red salmon at $1.20 for a one-pound can provides enough filling for five sandwiches at a cost of about 25 cents a sandwich. To enhance the flavor of this canned fish, combine it with chopped egg, celery, mayonnaise, and chopped pickle or green onion. This salmon sandwich spread offers a crunchy texture, as well as good food value.

Another low-cost fish sandwich spread can be made from a pound package of frozen flounder fillets. Simmer the fish with chopped onions until the fillets are tender, then drain off the water. When the fish is cool, mix it with mayonnaise, chopped celery, and any seasonings you like. A 95 cent package of fish fillets will provide five sandwich fillings at a cost of but 20 cents a sandwich.

As you shop at the food store, keep an open mind about many of the low-cost fish items that can be mixed with salad dressings to create interesting and different sandwich fillers.

Rebekah Officers Announced

Officers were elected at a recent meeting of Queen Ulster Rebekah Lodge No. 34 which took place at Odd Fellows Temple. Heading the group for this year will be Josie Dederick, noble grand; Hilda Van Etten, vice grand; Florence Gippert, recording secretary; Dorothy Imhoff, financial secretary; Anna Minkler, treasurer; Theresa Taylor, trustee for three years. These officers and appointed officers will be installed Tuesday, Oct. 3 at 8 p.m. by District Deputy President Angelica Loveless and staff of Tiskilwa Rebekah Lodge of Phoenicia. All officers are requested to wear white.

The following committees were appointed: refreshments, Marie Gundersen, Josie Dederick, Dorothy Imhoff, Ruth Transom, Anna Minkler, Hilda VanEtten; gifts, Blanche Dunn, Florence Tompkins, Anna VanEtten; visiting, Anna Van Etten, Florence Tompkins, vice grand and noble grand.

An appropriate article for the observance of the 121st anniversary of the founding of the Rebekah Degree was read by Josie Dederick. The noble grand and vice grand will meet with the District deputy president on Saturday, Sept. 30 at 2 p.m. in Phoenicia to make plans for the visit of the assembly president on Nov. 6 at Phoenicia.

Invitations for installations were received from Agapae Rebekah Lodge of Bearsville for Oct. 4 and from Queen of the Catskill Mountains Rebekah Lodge for Oct. 5. Several members of Queen Ulster will attend.

After the meeting, a celebration was held for Dorothy Imhoff in honor of her wedding anniversary. Members are urged to attend the next meeting on Oct. 3.

Welcome Wagon Club

Board members of the Greater Kingston Welcome Wagon Club met recently at the home of Mrs. Wendy Price, Sunset Gardens, to complete plans for the group's annual dinner to be held Tuesday, Oct. 10 at the YWCA, 209 Clinton Avenue.

Plans are being made also for projects to provide for holiday needs for the club's foster child in India, as well as for the area needy family which the club sponsors.

After the business meeting, refreshments were served. Anyone new in the area who would like to join the Club should contact Mrs. Eleanor Selzo, Mrs. Gail Widholm or Mrs. Katherine Van Allen of Kingston or Mrs. Carol Saatman of Saugerties. Newcomers to Ulster County who have been visited by a hostess are welcome to attend meetings and functions.

Mt. Marion Club

All homemakers in the Mt. Marion area who would like to learn arts and crafts useful to every day life, while in the cheerful surroundings of their neighbors' homes, are invited to attend the next meeting of Mt. Marion Know-Doers, Cooperative extension Club. The meeting is slated for 8 p.m. Thursday. Hostess for the first gathering of the new season will be Mrs. Victor Pelletieri, Country Club Drive, Mt. Marion Park. Guests are invited.

Lessons to be discussed include: stained glass ornaments; spice and everything nice; pattern alterations; learning to crochet; coffee, tea and dessert socials; American Food Heritage; making fabric window shades; flower pressing.

The nominal annual dues cover all monthly Newsletters issued from the Extension Office in Kingston, from September to June, 1973.

A successful bake sale was held Saturday, Sept. 16 throughout Mt. Marion Park, proceeds from which will benefit a needy family. Mrs. Robert J. Pfeiffer, president of the club, reminds all members to bring Christmas ornaments to the Thursday meeting for the October Open House.

The Club's committee consists of Mrs. Pfeiffer, president; Mrs. William R. Christiana, vice chairman; Mrs. Roger H. Brandt, secretary, Mrs. Donald E. Herdman, treasurer; and Mrs. William H. Till, publicity chairman.

Margopoulos Family Proud of Pumpkin Purchased for Halloween...a Year Ago

The William P. Margopoulos family of Woodstock believe in being well prepared. They bought their Halloween pumpkin almost a year ago.

During the ensuing months, the pumpkin came close to being used in a pie for Sunday dinner. However, time went on and the large yellow-orange fruit continued to decorate the kitchen table.

Soon the pumpkin became a focal point for visitors' conversations. Questions like "What are you going to do with it?" months later turned into: "Is that really a pumpkin from last Halloween?"

By the time June arrived, the family had become quite attached to this bright, healthy orange conversation piece which seemed to give every evidence of having been watered by the Fountain of Youth. But, alas, in August, to the family's dismay, signs of mold began to appear and the children feared they would have to part with their pet pumpkin.

Before its eminent demise, several colored and black and white photographs were taken. Then a curious thing occured. The mold ceased and the pumpkin began to get lighter and lighter in weight and developed a rattling sound inside. It was then the family realized the 11-month-old pumpkin had become a dried gourd.

Needless to say, the Margopoulos' intend to give the gourd all the "proper treatment" for they plan to "keep it forever."

Slide Presentation Given Recently At Northern Dutchess BPW Meeting

The first fall meeting of the Northern Dutchess Business and Professional Women's Club was held Tuesday, Sept. 19 at Foster's Coach House. The chairman of the evening was Mrs. Emma Coon who showed slides of the National Foundation in Washington, D.C. and discussed the aims and objectives of women in the business world, stressing the need for new members and ideas for future meetings.

Mrs. Adele Teti, a former member of Northern Dutchess BPW, was re-instated by membership chairman Mrs. Coon, assisted by president, Mrs. Dorothy Marian.

There will be a fall district meeting on October 21 at the Holiday Inn in Mt. Kisco. Delegates representing Northern Dutchess BPW will be the president Mrs. Marian, first vice president, Mrs. Daphne Coburn, and second vice president Mrs. Emma Coon. Alternates selected were Mrs. Betty Zitz, Mrs. Edith Burke and Mrs. Virginia Webb.

Mrs. Ethel Marshall, chairman of the annual fashion show, announced that it will be held at the Red Hook Central School, Linden Avenue, on Friday evening, November 10 at 8:30 p.m. Her co-chairmen will be Mrs. Dorothy Fischer and Mrs. Ruth Yetman. The following committees were announced: Mrs. Emma Coon and Mrs. Georgia Dawson in charge of refreshments; Mrs. Jeanette Sharpe, tickets; publicity, Mrs. Dorothy Mallon; awards, Mrs. Marie Scorza; commentators Mrs. Virginia Garofalo and Mrs. Eleanor Keefe; models to be announced at a later date.

The proceeds of this fashion show are used towards a scholarship award to Dutchess Community College for a girl from the Red Hook, Rhinebeck and Hyde Park area.

A Christmas luncheon is again planned for the Senior Citizens. It will be held on December 9th at the American Legion Hall in Rhinebeck. Mrs. Marie Wager is chairman.

Organist at Local Lutheran Church

Miss Louise Krotchko of Lake Katrine has assumed the post of organist at the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, Wurts and Rogers Streets. Miss Krotchko, who is a music teacher in the Kingston Consolidated School system, succeeds Mrs. Lelia Decker who served for more than 20 years at the downtown church and has been named organist emeritus.

LOUISE KROTCHKO

A native of St. Clair, Pa., Miss Krotchko holds a BS degree in Music Education from Pennsylvania State University with majors in piano and voice. She previously served as organist in the First United Church of Christ in St. Clair.

Playlet Planned for Thursday Evening

The scene for an entertaining evening will be set Thursday, Sept. 28, at 8 p.m. in the Trinity Episcopal Church Parish House, Barclay Heights, when members of the Woman's Club of Saugerties present a playlet entitled "The Saga of Samantha". Education Department Chairman Mrs. James Mills, anthor and director of the play, is rehearsing the cast in their comedy roles.

The cast includes: Samantha, Mrs. Donald Simmons; Sydney, Mrs. Edward Jabs; maid, Mrs. Jerome Milosek; butler, Mrs. Walter Stolte; club president, Mrs. Edward Rusczyk; secretary, Mrs. Joseph Sullivan; treasurer, Mrs. Joseph Kramer; art judge, Mrs. Frank Lauffer; narrator, Mrs. Victor Wood, salesgirl, Mrs. Edward Rusczyk; music, Mrs. Dennis Wurzel; properties, Mrs. Lawrence Heron.

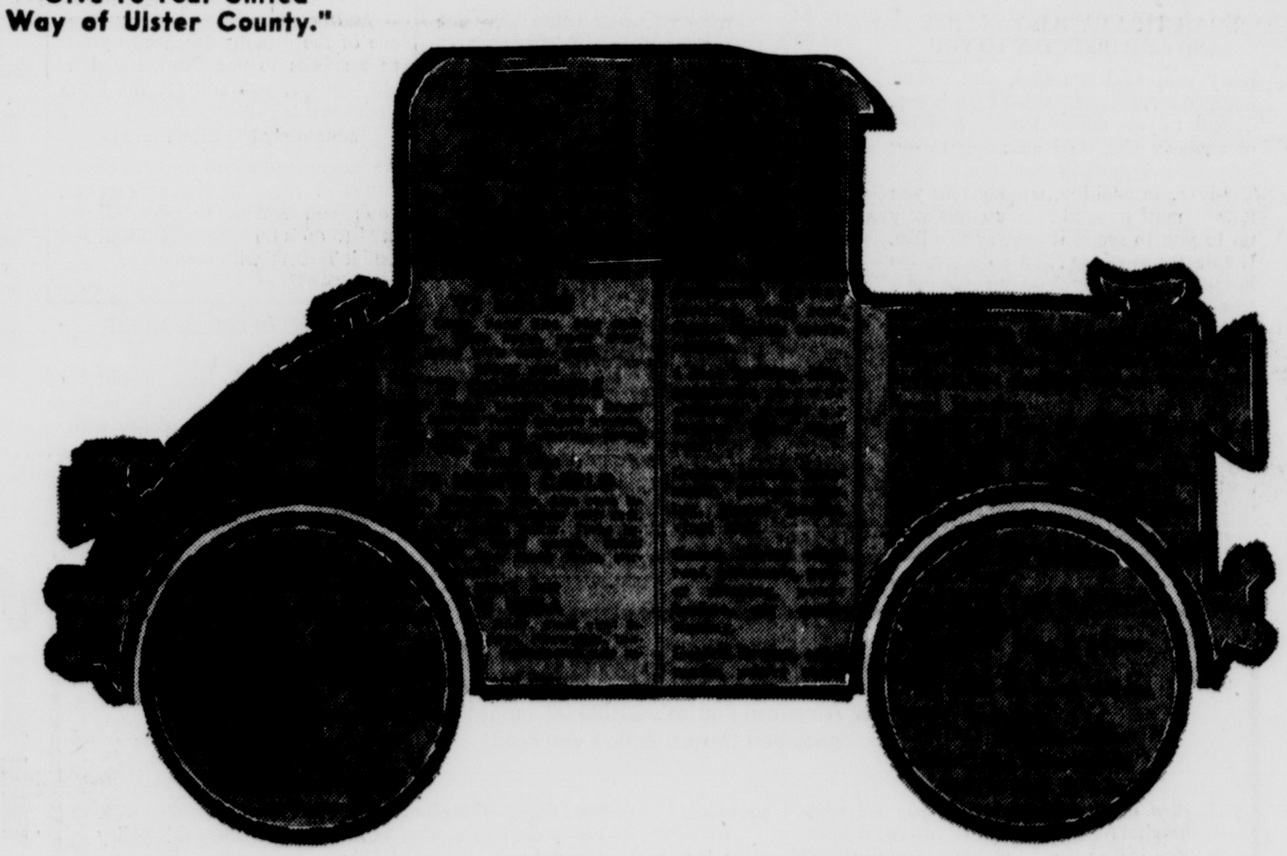

Members and interested area women are urged to attend. The meeting will offer an opportunity to become acquainted with club members and to learn about the activities planned for the 1972-73 club year.

ACT NOW. Limited Enrollment Period Ends Midnight Thursday, September 28, 1972

Now...for people of all ages

get up to $1,000.00 a month

EXTRA CASH from the VERY FIRST DAY you're in the hospital for a covered accident or sickness !

SEND NO MONEY NOW! 10-DAY FREE INSPECTION NO SALESMAN WILL CALL!

Act Now ! This offer lasts only 3 more days

HERE IS A PLAN THAT ACTUALLY PAYS YOU:

■ EXTRA CASH UP TO $1000.00 a month ($33.34 A DAY) from the VERY FIRST DAY you're in the hospital for a covered accident or sickness! ■ EXTRA CASH sent directly to you, even if you have Blue Cross, Blue Shield, Medicare or any other insurance! ■ EXTRA CASH to use any way you like! ■ Up to $1,000.00 a month EXTRA CASH, even if you're 65 or over!

Finally, here's a plan that protects you and your family by paying you EXTRA CASH from your Very First Day in the Hospital for either a covered accident or sickness . . . Extra Cash up to $1,000 a month ($33.34 a day) for each covered accident or sickness, even if you're 65 or over.

WHY YOU NEED THIS EXTRA CASH PLAN

You know how high hospital costs have gone and we expect they will climb even higher! The fact is that even a short hospital stay can run up a crippling hospital bill!

You may have Blue Cross, Blue Shield or Medicare or some other insurance plan. But even though you have a good plan, with medical costs being what they are today, these plans often aren't enough to cover your doctor and hospital bills . . . let alone provide you the extra cash you will need for regular household and living expenses . . . costs that must be paid even though you're in the hospital and can't work. That's why you need this Extra Cash Plan now!

ALL EXTRA CASH IS TAX-FREE AND PAID DIRECTLY TO YOU

Every cent of Extra Cash you collect under the American Patriot Plan is sent directly to you, not to a doctor, hospital, or anybody else. And according to our lawyers, and the IRS regulations it's all Tax-Free. In addition, nobody tells you how it must be used . . . it's completely up to you to spend it anyway you like. Use it for anything . . . the doctor, the hospital, the druggist. You can even use it to take a vacation if you like, or pay the rent, buy food . . . anything. And it's all sent to you even if you have Blue Cross, Blue Shield, Medicare or any other insurance.

Extra Cash up to $1,000 a month ($33.34 a day) from your wife's very first day of hospitalization for a covered accident or sickness, if she's listed on your policy, even if she's 65 or over . . . if your children are listed they also get the full $1,000 a month ($33.34 a day) Extra Cash.

GET STARTED NOW AT NO CHARGE

The extra costs of hospital stays have created demands recently for this type of Extra Cash Protection . . . in fact, we feel there are many, many people like you who need and want it. In order to make it easier for you to take advantage of this opportunity, we'll issue your policy at absolutey NO COST TO YOU, not even the cost of postage. All that you have to do is fill out the short Enrollment Form below and mail it in the postage-free envelope . . . and you won't even see a salesman. Look it over, and if you like it, send your premium payment in within 10 days, and you'll be covered from the date your policy was issued.

And here's good news for you. By paying your premium payment within 10 days of the time you receive your policy, your coverage will actually start on the date we issue it. So even though you could go to the hospital during that time, you will be fully covered.

STUDY YOUR POLICY DURING 10-DAY FREE INSPECTION PERIOD

When your policy arrives, study it in the privacy of your home. You'll find it easy to understand since there's no fine print. In fact, we suggest you discuss it with any trusted advisor. When you're completely satisfied this is the protection you need, send in your premium payment promptly before your 10-day free inspection period expires. Your coverage will go into effect on the day your policy was issued . . . not the day you paid the premium. Then, even if you are hospitalized during your inspection period, your policy will already be in force, working for you.

THE COMPANY BEHIND YOUR POLICY

Your policy is backed by the resources and integrity of American Patriot Health Insurance Company. We are a progressive, financially sound company dedicated to serving ALL Americans in all walks of life. When you join the American Patriot family, you can be assured of quick, reliable claim service when you need it most.

EVEN IF YOU'RE 65 OR OVER YOU STILL GET UP TO $1,000.00 A MONTH – $33.34 A DAY EXTRA CASH FROM YOUR VERY FIRST DAY IN THE HOSPITAL FOR COVERED ACCIDENT OR SICKNESS

Extra Cash Paid in Addition To Medicare Or Any Other Insurance

Medicare does not cover all of your expenses when you're in the hospital . . . it was not designed to. There are deductibles and limitations. But now, here's good news. American Patriot's Extra Income Hospital Plan pays you full Extra Cash benefits to help you meet your share of the high costs of a hospital stay. Doesn't it make plain, good sense to take advantage of this chance to get this valuable Extra Cash Protection? Wouldn't knowing that you could get up to $1,000.00 a month ($33.34 a day) Extra Cash to help meet the large bills that come with a hospital stay give you a sense of security and peace of mind?

And here's more good news: every one of the benefits described on this page applies to you. No matter how old you are, you still get full Extra Cash benefits.

Absolutely NO LIMIT on age

We welcome you into this plan even if you're 70, 75, or 80. It doesn't matter, you're still welcome to apply. All you need to do is fill in the enrollment and mail it TODAY with no money.

WHY WE CAN OFFER SO MUCH FOR SO LITTLE

Because we enroll large numbers of people at one time, directly by mail, we cut down on the cost of policy writing and issuing. By cutting down our costs, you also save time and money. What's more, you still receive the same great protection!

SEND NO MONEY START YOUR COVERAGE NOW

Here's what we pay you

Up to $1,000.00 a month ($33.34 a day) from the very first day you're laid-up in the hospital for a covered accident or sickness . . . for up to 24 months for each accident or sickness.

Up to $1,000.00 a month ($33.34 a day) from your wife's first day in the hospital for a covered accident or sickness, if she's listed on your policy.

Up to $1,000.00 a month ($33.34 a day) from your covered children's first day in the hospital for a covered accident or sickness, no matter how young they are.

FOR FOLKS 65 OR OVER, Full Extra Cash Benefits of up to $1,000.00 a month ($33.34 a day) from your first day in the hospital for a covered accident or sickness, no matter how old you are.

Here's what we don't pay

This policy does not pay for confinement in U.S. Government hospitals for the treatment of members or ex-members of the Armed Forces; nursing or convalescent homes; extended-care facilities; homes for the aged; mental institutions; facilities for drug addicts or alcoholics, and hospitalization due to:

1. A sickness or condition you had before the effective date of the policy. However, after your policy has been in force for two years, you will collect full benefits for such pre-existing conditions.
2. War or act of war.
3. Mental disorders.
4. Pregnancy, childbirth, miscarriage or any complications arising therefrom within three years from the delivery or miscarriage.

Here's what you pay

Monthly Rates $1000.00-A-MONTH EXTRA INCOME HOSPITAL PLAN
Age at Enrollment	Monthly Premium Per Person
0-18	only $ 3.00
19-39	only $ 7.50
40-54	only $10.00
55-64	only $11.00
65-74	only $16.00
75 & over	only $21.00

ALSO AVAILABLE $500.00-A-MONTH EXTRA INCOME HOSPITAL PLAN
Age at Enrollment	Monthly Premium Per Person
0-18	only $ 1.50
19-39	only $ 3.75
40-54	only $ 5.00
55-64	only $ 5.50
65-74	only $ 8.00
75 & over	only $10.50

NOTE: When you fill in the Enrollment Form, please be sure to check which plan you want. $1000.00-A-Month or $500.00-A-Month.

NOTE: The regular Monthly Premium shown here (for your age at time of enrollment) is the exact amount you will pay for your policy until you are 65. At age 65, the premium will change to the rate then in effect for that age group. It will never change because of frequent claims or the amount of money you collect in benefits; it can only change if there is a general rate adjustment – up or down – on all policies of this type and class in your state. Covered children, when they reach the age of 19, will be protected under their own policy, regardless of their health, at the rate then in effect for their age group, if they apply. What's more, they receive full credit for continuous coverage.

10 Important Questions Answered

That Tell You How American Patriot's $1000.00 a month Extra Income Plan gives you the protection you need!

1. How much will this policy pay me when I go to the hospital for any accident or covered sickness?
   You will receive $1,000.00 a month ($33.34 a day) Any family member covered by this plan will receive $1,000.00 a month ($33.34 a day) for up to a maximum of 24 months when he or she goes to the hospital even if they are 65 or over!

2. When do I collect my extra cash?
   You or a covered family member will receive extra cash from the VERY FIRST DAY in the hospital for a covered sickness or accident. Your extra cash is paid as long as you stay in the hospital for up to 24 months for each separate covered sickness or accident. And you can use your extra cash any way you wish – whether it's to pay doctor or hospital bills or for important household bills.

3. Will I be paid if I am in the hospital for less than a full month?
   Of course you will! You will receive cash at the rate of $33.34 a day.

4. When does this policy become effective?
   It will go into effect on the day we accept your application and issue your policy. You will be eligible to receive your extra cash benefits after you've paid at least one month's premium.

5. Suppose I collect benefits for a certain sickness or accident. What happens if I am hospitalized again for the same condition?
   You go back to collecting your $1,000.00 a month ($33.34 a day) until you've been hospitalized for a total of 24 months. Then, if the same condition puts you back in the hospital after you've resumed your normal activities for six months, you become eligible to receive $1,000.00 a month ($33.34 a day) again for up to 24 additional months. Of course, any new condition will be covered immediately.

6. What doesn't this plan cover?
   The exclusions section of this ad lists what this policy does not pay.

7. Why do I need Extra Cash in addition to my other insurance?
   Chances are, your present insurance won't cover all your medical bills and other expenses, including important household bills.

8. Can you drop me or raise my rates for health reasons?
   We cannot cancel or refuse to renew your policy because of changes in your health or the amount of cash you collect in benefits. Also, we guarantee that we will not adjust your rate – up or down – unless we take the same action with regard to all policies of this type in your state. At age 65, the premium will change to the rate then in effect for that age group. Your policy is also guaranteed renewable to age 65, which means we cannot cancel or refuse to renew it so long as you make your premium payments on time. And even after you reach age 65, we cannot cancel or refuse to renew your policy unless we take the same action on all policies of this type (Form 1-986) and class in your state.

9. How does my 10-day free inspection work?
   When you receive your policy, you will have 10 days to inspect it to make 100% certain you are satisfied. If you are, send in your premium payment and your coverage will be retroactive to the effective date on the policy – the day we issue it and not the day you pay your premium. This means that if you continue this protection, you will be covered during the free inspection period.

10. How do I apply?
    Just fill in the attached enrollment form and mail it to the American Patriot Health Insurance Co., American Health Service Center, 16th & Sansom Streets, Phila., Pa. 19102. SEND NO MONEY – but be sure to sign your name on the enrollment form.

Rhinebeck Businessmen Win Awards

By TIM SCHUSTER

RHINEBECK — Awards were presented Monday evening to a group of Rhinebeck businessmen who have been cooperating with the spirit advocated by the Rhinebeck Visual Environment Committee.

The awards were presented at a special Chamber of Commerce dinner at the Beekman Arms Hotel, and were primarily concerned with the visual beautification of places of business and some private homes and offices.

Co-chairman of the VEC Michael Fichera and Charles LaForge made introductory remarks, and Leslie Rollins of the Dutchess County Cooperative Extension Association followed up with an explanation of his group's work in the community development area.

Fichera commented that the VEC began about one year ago with a similar meeting at the Beekman Arms with Rollins in attendance. "Our village had been beautiful," he said but many merchants and businessmen felt that the advent of area shopping centers might cause the village center to "deteriorate."

"We floundered around for three months," he said. "Our sole purpose is to keep Rhinebeck beautiful. We want commerce with beauty."

LaForge said that trees for downtown planting were "on the way" and litter baskets would be set up soon. And he presented awards to the businessmen who went ahead on their own to beautify their properties.

Those awarded were: Robert Langhans, "Bob's Tavern"; Robert Anderson, "Beekman Armoury"; Jack Ackerman, "Jack's Smoke Shop"; Joseph Shapiro, "Hudson Valley Department Store."

Awards also went to: Robert Miller for the Starr Alley construction and "Chrysalis"; Fred Von Husen, "Von Husen's Meat Market"; Kenneth and Donald Pitcher, "Rhinebeck Wine and Liquor Store"; Herman Tietjen, for his law offices and private home.

Also: Millers ARCO Service Station and BP Service Station for efforts at beautification; the Marvin Frost law office building; the Robert Winne law office building; Rhinebeck Hardware and Kopper Kettle Restaurant for flower arrangements along the sidewalk; Al Stickle's general merchandise store.

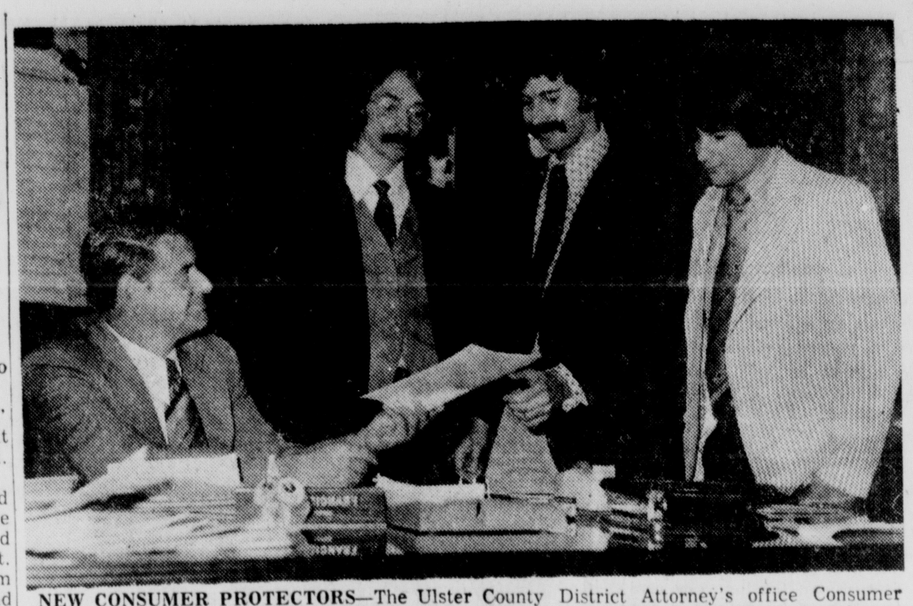

LaForge congratulated the First National Bank's board of directors and President Fichera for spearheading the drive for the downtown area, and Fishcera reciprocated by presenting LaForge with an award for kicking off the actual beautification with the establishment of the Firehouse Gift Shop and refurbishing of the Beekman Arms.

Rollins followed, stating that Cooperative Extension was now working with Hyde Park, Rhinebeck, an Pleasant Valley and that the Village of Millerton had just formed a similar committee.

He suggested that Rhinebeck identify itself as to type, and then capitalize on this. He gave as an example the tourism that Hyde Park attracts with two national monuments.

"We cannot push too hard," he cautioned in saying that people must become involved. "We must lead gently."

Rollins said that there would be a special meeting at the Dutchess County Farm and Home Center in Millbrook Oct. 6 with representation from Rhinebeck, Hyde Park, and Pleasant Valley to perhaps try to organize a countywide beautification program if enough localities were receptive.

Tract of Muck Lands Included in District

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI) — The largest tract of muck lands outside the Florida Everglades is now part of New York State's "agriculture district" in Orange County.

Environmental Conservation Commissioner Henry L. Diamond announced Monday that a 22,891- acre "agricultural district" in the towns of Warwick, Minisink and Waywanda, including the 15,000-acre muck land parcel, had been added to the program.

Diamond said the Orange County district is "unique and irreplaceable" because it has within it the large tract of muck land, the largest such parcel outside the Everglades.

With tentative approval of three other districts in Orange, Schoharie and Erie counties, Diamond said, the state will have a total of 12 protected districts with 70,000 acres.

"Creation of agricultural districts is important to all the people of our state, farmers and non - farmers alike," Diamond said.

"There are 12 million of New York's 30 million acres devoted to farming and maintaining the lands as healthy and productive farm land benefits the environment for us all."

The large Orange County district includes 352 farms, with an annual crop of $20 million in onions, celery, lettuce, potatoes, corn, spinach, radishes, pumpkins, and dairy products.

The other districts were:

—Erie County: 10,652 acres in the towns of Alden, Clarence and Newstead, in the northeastern part of the county; primarily dairy and poultry farming on scattered, single - family farms.

—Orange County: 1,542 acres southeast of Goshen, in the towns of Goshen and Chester, since the area faces residential development, Diamond said the classification would protect farms from "the pressure of rising assessments."

—Schoharie County: 2,730 acres just east of Cobleskill, considered one of the best dairy areas of the county.

The Orange and Schoharie County legislative bodies must hold hearings on their proposed districts within 30 days.

The Erie County district will take effect in 30 days unless the legislature reverses itself in approving the plan.

Spot Drawing Out for Cooke

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Appellate Division Judge Lawrence H. Cooke has been told by the state's highest court that he can't be included in the drawing for positions on the November ballot for the Court of Appeals because it would play havoc with the order on the entire ballot.

Cooke is one of three Democratic candidates for the Court of Appeals, but he also has the Conservative party endorsement—and that's the problem.

In a 5-2 decision Monday, the Court of Appeals ruled that the complexities of the cross-endorsements on the ballot would make it impossible to include Cooke in the drawing for positions.

Secretary of State John P. Lomenzo had ruled that Cooke would have to be left out of the drawing, because changes in his position among the three Democrats would carry over to the Conservative line.

Because the Conservative party has endorsed two Republicans and Cooke, while the Liberal party has endorsed a third Republican and the other two Democrats, changing Cooke's position would affect all four party lines, Lomenzo declared.

Cooke took Lomenzo to court. He won at the State Supreme Court level but was reversed at the appellate-level. Monday's decision affirmed the Appellate Division ruling.

Teachers Promise Return

BEACON, N.Y. (AP) — The striking Beacon Teachers Association has promised to return to classes if the city board of education will put their contract dispute into binding arbitration with the American Arbitration Association.

Fred Tlumak, president of the teachers' union, said the board has not responded to the offer made early today.

A State Supreme Court judge in Poughkeepsie asserted Monday that the strikers "floriously enjoyed flaunting" two court orders directing them to go back to work.

Contempt proceedings against the teachers were launched Monday with the judge vowing, "I am going to hold them in contempt and punish these people both by fine and jail."

Justice John Donohoe issued a temporary restraining order shortly after the strike began Sept. 7. When the strike continued he made the injunction permanent.

The strike action affects 3,566 children in the city's school system and 192 teachers who are members of the Beacon Teachers Association, affiliated with the New York Congress of Teachers.

Negotiations between the teachers and the school board have bogged down despite numerous meetings in the past few weeks and the efforts of a state mediator. The association is striking over wages and recognition of the union.

Cites Student 'Respect'

Robison Sees Under-30 Vote Going to Nixon

WASHINGTON, D.C. Congressman Howard W. Robison predicted last week that a majority of voters under the age of 30 will cast their ballots on Nov. 7 for the re-election of President Nixon. Speaking at the State University College at New Paltz, the Tioga County Republican who is seeking re-election from the new 27th Congressional District, said that he has found "many, many students are discovering a new respect for the incumbent President and for his very real accomplishments during the past three and one-half years."

Robison pointed to the latest Gallup Poll, showing Nixon leading Senator McGovern 61 to 26 per cent among voters under 30, and surmised that "this surely was the most shocking news imaginable for the already beleaguered McGovern strategists."

"Perhaps," Robison continued, "youth around the country resented McGovern's seeming habit of assuming that he would be the recipient of their overwhelming support. In this connection, his reaction to the Gallup Poll might be illustrative. He brushed aside the poll by saying that any young person who supports the President 'is too confused to know which end is up.' What an incredibly arrogant statement from the alleged guru of the "New Politics." If this really represents the best of his attitude toward young voters; if he really believes that anyone who has the audacity to disagree with him and be young at the same time doesn't 'know which end is up,' then it is little wonder that he is losing his charm among the young."

Robison further attributed this switch among young voters to the fact that more and more of them have come to the conclusion that Nixon has helped make this "a safer world in which to live and in which to plan a future."

"After discussing Nixon's trips to Peking and Moscow; and the agreements which were reached during both trips, Robison observed: "Like all other Americans, young people have been comparing these accomplishments with the performance this summer of the Democratic nominee for President; and in that comparison, Nixon is gaining considerable support. It is not just that McGovern's mistakes have created a sizeable 'credibility gap' all his own, although this is serious enough; but it is also the recognition that the failure to re-elect President Nixon would set this dramatic movement toward a new world order back two or three years at best."

"It comes down to this: On the most important issue possible, namely world peace, Nixon has shown at steadiness of purpose and a clarity of vision which has earned the respect of all age groups in America; and it will serve him in good stead come Nov. 7."

Employment Draws Blast

SOUTH KORTRIGHT David H. Blazer, Democratic candidate for Congress in the 27th district, criticized incumbent Republican Howard Robison's lack of concern for the severe unemployment problem in the district. Citing examples of Robison's longtime opposition to job-creating legislation, Blazer declared Robison "an enemy of the working man" and that he (Robison) "was not working to clear up the welfare mess which is largely created by unemployment.

"During the months of July and August Robison voted against all three of the major pieces of job-creating legislation: the Public Works Economic Extension Bill which achieved the support of 38 of New York's 41 Congressmen and two others, HR 13853, and HR15587."

Dow Asks Probe Of PSC-N.Y. Tel

NEWBURGH Congressman John G. Dow has written to New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, requesting the Governor begin an inquiry into the relationship between New York Telephone Company and the state's Public Service Commission, which is charged with overseeing the giant utility.

Dow acted in response to a wire service story which revealed that New York Telephone has spent $8.6 million to install equipment which will make it possible for the company to charge customers for information calls.

The PSC wound up hearings on the proposed charge for information calls on Aug. 24 but the commission has promised further hearings before the five-member panel votes on the plan.

Dow charged, in his letter to Rockefeller, that "for a company to spend millions of dollars to implement such a plan prior to its approval would constitute a reckless expenditure of the stockholders' money. The fact that the management of the phone company has decided to proceed with this expenditure raises the highly disturbing possibility that the commission's decision is a foregone conclusion.

"Whether or not this is true," Dow continued, "the possibility has occured to the public and the fact that this kind of collusion could even be speculated at gravely undermines public confidence is the Public Service Commission.

SPALT AT LYONSVILLE HOME

Neighborhood Centers for Mc

KINGSTON — At least 200 "neighborhood headquarters" for the election of Sen. George McGovern to the Presidency will be opened by the Democratic Party throughout Ulster County, according to John Gramlich, Ulster County coordinator for the McGovern campaign.

The neighborhood headquarters, which will be located in the homes of county residents and in a number of business establishments, are in addition to offices already opened in Kingston, New Paltz, Saugerties, Woodstock and Wawarsing.

In announcing the openings, Gramlich said, "All of us as residents of Ulster County are concerned with such issues as health care, tax reform, the drug problem and improved benefits for senior citizens. President Nixon's record in these and many other areas is indefensible.

"Sen. McGovern's record, while perhaps not well known to many citizens, speaks to the concerns of the overwhelming majority of those of us who live in Ulster County," Gramlich continued. "Our neighborhood headquarters are an important part of our effort to ensure that all the residents of Ulster County have the opportunity to familiarize with Sen. McGovern's beliefs and legislative record.

"We are taking our campaign into every town and neighborhood in Ulster County. The Democratic Party is not going to sit in a central office and wait for the voters to come to us. We are going to work," Gramlich said

Meanwhile, town co-ordinators for McGovern met last week, at the home of Ulster County co-ordinator Janet Yallum. They discussed recent progress and laid plans for the rest of the campaign with Renee LeClair of Peekskill, Mid-Hudson Valley Regional Co-ordinator of the McGovern Campaign.

Plans were discussed for the local voter registration days on Sept. 30, Oct. 2 and Oct 10. Town leaders were urged to get as many unregistered voters as possible enrolled at that time. A canvass of local voters for all Democratic candidates was also scheduled to be completed before the election. It has already started in some parts of the county. A variety of fund-raising events are also planned for the next month.

Gramlich, co-coordinator for Ulster County with Mrs. Yallum, also reported on the status of the campaign in Kingston. The town of Wawarsing was represented by Democratic Town chairman Harold Brown and Tom Hourin. Ed Aspinall reported for the Town of Olive and Allen Spalt represented Marbletown. Roger Vogt, the town co-ordinator for Hurley, Nancy McCabe for Woodstock, Mark Fried for New Paltz, and Martin Henderson for the Town of Saugerties were also present. Debbie Resnick who is the Media Co-ordinator for Dutchess County also attended.

Those wanting to volunteer to work on any aspect of the campaign were urged to contact the coordinators of their respective towns or the county headquarters at 309 Wall Street

Burns Hits Fish On Radio Issue

KINGSTON — John Burns, Democratic candidate for Congress in New York's new 25th Congressional District, today charged his Republican opponent, Hamilton Fish, Jr., with concealing "questionable campaign contributions received from two Ulster County savings banks."

Burns charged that "records maintained by a Kingston radio station, establish that Heritage Savings Bank and Ulster Savings Bank jointly sponsored at least four hours of radio broadcast time by Fish since he declared his candidacy for election. Fish's financial statements filed in Washington on Sept. 10 do not disclose these contributions," Burns said.

Federal law requires that candidates for federal public office file detailed periodic reports of campaign receipts and expenditures in Washington, D.C., he explained.

Commenting upon New York State laws which prohibit candidates from receiving campaign contributions from banks and other corporations, Burns charged, "It is hard to believe that Fish simply forgot that these banks had paid for the four hours of Fish radio-broadcast time.

Charges 'Absurd'

WASHINGTON — Characterizing his opponent's charges of improper financial filing as "absurd nonsense" Rep. Hamilton Fish, Jr. today stated that "After reviewing my opponents filings, I would suggest that if there is any deliberate campaign expenditure reporting irregularities in this campaign, it is contained in my opponent's reports."

Rep. Fish stated that in a review of his opponent's public report, "there is no indication that any funds have been paid to Whipple & Carlson Associates, Public Relations, Madison Avenue, N.Y.

"Yet I am sure every newspaper and radio station in our area will recall having received news releases from Whipple and Carlson Associates, and these releases date from the start of my opponent's campaign," Congressman Fish said.

Under the Federal Campaign Election Act of 1971, "any gift, subscription,' loan, advance, or deposit of money or anything of value made for the purpose of influencing the nomination for election or the election" must be filed.

"There are also some rather questionable transfers and notations about donations given in a footnote as perhaps totaling $12,000 from his mother which are highly suspect," Congressman Fish said.

Congressman Fish stated that he had first bothered to review his opponent's filing following a charge by Burns that Fish had not listed charges made by Kingston radio station WGHQ for sponsorship of a monthly "direct line" program featuring Congressman Fish answering constituent questions on an open line.

"The program was strictly a public service program, in which constituents could consult me by telephone. The program, like many other such programs, has been going on, with the exception of the 60 days prior to the 1970 election, for the past four years. At no point is my candidacy put forward, nor is anything ever discussed except current laws, or help given to constituents," Congressman Fish explained.

Congressman Fish stated he was particularly disturbed by the "irresponsible nature of the Burns charge," as it is "less against me than against three local businesses, the radio station and the two sponsors of the program, all acting in good faith, to provide a public service, in no way tainted with the Burns brand of politics."

Chiefs Have the Makings

GOTTCHA—Kansas City Chiefs quarterback Leny Dawson (16) is caught by New Orleans defensive end Joe Owens (72) and thrown for a 10-yard loss to the Saints' 45-yard line in first quarter of Monday night's game. Chiefs won, 20-17. (UPI)

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—It wasn't a particularly impressive win on the scoreboard but for Kansas City Coach Hank Stram it proved his Chiefs have the makings of champions.

"If you're not a mature team with pride and purpose you could fold under those circumstances," Stram said.

Those circumstances were three Chiefs' fumbles that New Orleans changed into scores. The scrambling Saints led three times and held a 17-17 tie until Jan Stenerud booted a 22-yard field goal with 1:21 left in the game for the Chiefs' 20-17 victory Monday night.

Stram said quarterback Len Dawson, who brought the Chiefs' from behind twice with scoring passes of three and 22 yards to Willie Frazier and Otis Taylor, "did a good job of taking what they gave us."

After a scoreless first period, Stenerud's 12-yard field goal matched a 31-yard boot by Charlie Durkee and Dawson's pass to Frazier caught up with Doug Wyatt's 35-yard fumble return to knot the score 10-10 at the half.

Saints' quarterback Archie Manning then hit tight end Dave Parks with an eight-yard scoring pass late in the third period but Kansas City tied it at 17-17 three minutes later with Dawson's scoring pass to Taylor.

"We just needed to win," Stram said, obviously thinking of last week's 20-10 loss to Miami. "We needed a good offensive game and we had it tonight.

"When you are a good football team like we are, you play a little tight," Stram said. "But the longer the game went on, the more we loosened up and went after people."

Stram praised the Saints as "a fine young growing team" and called Manning a "one of the brilliant young quarterbacks.

"We gave them three fumbles and you have to give them credit for taking them in to score," Stram said.

Wyatt, a three-year veteran at safety who scored his first NFL touchdown on the fumble return late in the second period, said Kansas City was a good team "but I think we played well enough to win."

"I don't think it was our supreme game," Saints' defensive end Richard Neal added, "but it was a good effort."

Change Helped Ryan

By United Press International

A change of scenery was all that Nolan Ryan needed.

Ryan, an inconsistent, mediocre pitcher with the New York Mets for the past few seasons, has developed into a star now that he's gotten a chance to pitch regularly with the California Angels. He proved it Monday night by becoming only the sixth pitcher in American League history to surpass the 300-strikeout mark for a season as the Angels edged the Texas Rangers 2-1.

Ryan, one of the hardest throwers in baseball, struck out 12 batters to boost his total to 302 and wrest the major league lead from Steve Carlton of Philadelphia. The victory was his 18th, a career high.

"I think it's the highlight of my career,." Ryan said. "I was actually more concerned about getting 20 than the strikeouts, but it"s going to be tough getting 20 wins, that's all there is to it." Ryan must win his last two starts against Minnesota and Oakland to reach the charmed 20-victory cirrcle.

"I just felt I was lost in the shuffle in New York," Ryan said. "California's given me an opportunity to pitch. That's the reason I wanted to be traded. I wanted a chance to pitch. If I was still with the Mets, particularly after that slow start, I probably would have pitched 100 to 150 innings."

Ryan, traded to California with three minor leaguers for Jim Fregosi, has pitched 263 innings this season.

In the only other major league game played Monday night, the San Diego Padres edged the Los Angeles Dodgers 5-3. Minnesota at Oakland was rained out.

Rhinebeck Blanks Saugerties

KHS Booters Win

KINGSTON

Bob Graves' boot into the Arlington net two minutes into the overtime period lifted Kingston High's soccer team to its second victory, 3-2, here Monday in a fast and rough DCSL battle of contenders.

Saugerties, the league's newest entry, failed in its second bid for a win and was drubbed 7-0 by a strong Rhinebeck squad. Around the rest of the loop, powerful Poughkeepsie picked up an easy 7-1 win over Ketcham. Roosevelt fell, 3-0, to Webetuck and Spackenkill nipped Oakwood, 1-0.

Lots of hustle and an all-out effort on both sides made it hard for both the Maroons and the Admirals to set up their attacks. Arlington's talented forward, Skip Farrier, hit his first of two scores to boost the visitors out in front at the 10:25 mark of the second period as the hitting started to get slightly out of hand.

Graves' game winner came after Kingston had fought back twice to tie the score. Phil Bosch converted a John Ivankovic assist that knotted things at 1-1 for all of 27 seconds before Farrier's second goal found the range in the third period. Bosch had a hand in the second Kingston score as his assist set up Johnny Robinson with regulation time almost gone at 14:40 of the fourth quarter.

"Arlington was unbelievably quick," said Kingston coach John Hunter. "Both teams were really going all out which helped make the play very sloppy, but there were also many easy kicks which were missed."

"Again, though, our defense was fantastic," he continued. "Jerry Murphy and Ian Horowitz did outstanding jobs at fullback."

Although Arlington is winless after two contests, the game rated as a slight upset for the Maroons who had whipped Webetuck in their opener. Hunter still feels it's going to be a four-way race for the crown.

"Arlington won't lose from here on out," he stated, and added the Pioneers, first game victors over the Admirals, and Ketcham are the other teams to beat.

In Rhinebeck, Tony Elia's young Sawyers were set back by a veteran Indian team. Paul Kane in goal turned in his second shutout, but the strong Rhinebeck defensive line gave him little opportunity to display his talents. Rhinebeck is now 2-0 after starting the season with a 1-0 decision over John Jay.

Wednesday, both area teams are on the road. Kingston goes to Ketcham while Saugerties tries for its first win ever in the sport at Oakwood.

East Race Continues

By United Press International

The red hot American League East Division race resumes tonight but two of the four contenders find themselves with another day of inactvity.

With New York and Detroit getting ready for a key two game series beginning Wednesday night in the Motor City, Boston is at home against Milwaukee while Baltimore entertains Cleveland.

Boston sits atop the AL East with a precarious one game lead but, for what it's worth the Red Sox have the knowledge they can determine their own destiny and, at the moment, do not have to rely on others. Boston's next three games are at home, two against Milwaukee and one against Kansas City, but the Red Sox must play their final six contests on the road, three at Baltimore and the final three at Detroit.

Unlike previous seasons, where all teams involved in a pennant chase played the same amount of games, this year, because of the players strike, finds Detroit having 156 games, Boston and New York with 155 and Baltimore with a 154. With this situation, Detroit has a chance to win more games than any of the others but equally true, they could lose the extra game or two.

At this stage, the Tigers have played two more games than Boston and find thmselves with an equal number of wins but two extra losses. Of course, Detroit can make up those losses in the final series of the season against Boston. The one other advantage the Tigers have is that their remaining eight games are all at home, two against New York, three against Milwaukee and the final three against Boston.

Detroit trails Boston by one game with Baltimore 2½ back and New York three behind. Baltimore, trailing both Boston and Detroit, needs help if it is to win its fourth straight division title. The Orioles have three left with Boston, but with their four other games against Cleveland, they must look to New York, Milwaukee or Boston to beat Detroit.

The Yankees find themselves in similar straits. Except for two games against Detroit, New York finishes up with Cleveland and Milwaukee. The Yankees, like the Orioles, must play the game of "scoreboard watching" while meeting the Brewers and Indians.

"I think it'll go right down to the last game in Detroit and I'm not counting anybody out at this point," said the Boston skipper. I'll be opimistic when our lead is more games than we have left to play."

WALTER KENNEDY

JULIUS ERVING

Erving Challenges Kennedy's Power

NEW YORK (AP) — The power of Walter Kennedy as Commissioner of the National Basketball Association has been challenged by the Atlanta Hawks over the Julius Erving case.

Kennedy slapped a $25,000 fine on the Hawks Monday for playing Erving in two exhibition games over the weekend in violation of his directives not to do so.

William Putnam, president of the Hawks, said the Atlanta club would not pay the fine and disclosed that the Hawks and Erving had filed a $2 million federal antitrust suit Sunday against the NBA and Kennedy.

Erving is the former University of Massachesetts star who left school after his junior year to play with the Virginia Squires of the American Basketball Association last season. He jumped to the Hawks after the ABA season ended. Meantime, Milwaukee had picked Erving in the NBA draft after his college class had graduated. The Bucks thereby claimed Erving belonged to them.

The NBA Board of Governors ruled last week in San Francisco that Erving is the property of Milwaukee and not of the Hawks who reportedly signed him to a five-year contract at a million dollars.

In their suit against the NBA and Kennedy, which is scheduled for a hearing Friday in Atlanta, the Hawks contend the action by the NBA Board of Governors amounts to a "combination and conspiracy to restrain interstate trade and commerce in violation of Section I of the Sherman Antitrust Act . . . and provide a pervasive web of restrictions which award to one team the exclusive rights to a player's services, regardless of whether he is actually playing for or being compensated by such team."

Judge Ernest Tidewell in Georgia Superior Court ruled on Sept. 12 that Erving could play for the Hawks. Erving, who lives on Long Island, also has pending a suit against the Squires in U.S. District Court in Brooklyn.

Seagram's 7 Crown. It's America's whiskey.
All across the land, more Americans drink and enjoy 7 Crown than the leading Scotch and Canadian combined. And they do so for one reason: the taste. A consistent lightness and smoothness that has convinced millions of Americans that they can Say Seagram's and Be Sure.
Thank you, America, for making our whiskey your whiskey.

National League Dominates NEA All-Major Team

DICK ALLEN

JOE TORRE

CESAR CEDENO

WILLIE STARGELL

STEVE CARLTON

★ ★ ★ ★ Carlton Top Pitcher

NEW YORK (NEA) — Those baseball fans who are believers in the superiority of the National League have some new ammunition.

For the third year in a row, National League players dominate the All-Major League team chosen by the 600 players in both leagues conducted by Newspaper Enterprise Association.

The National League held a 6-4 advantage in 1970 and a 7-3 edge in 1971 but this year only two American Leaguers — Dick Allen and Sparky Lyle — kept the Nationals from sweeping all 10 positions.

Cesar Cedeno, the Houston Astros' flashy centerfielder, was the leading vote-getter in the sixth annual NEA poll, earning a spot on 90 per cent of the players' ballots. Allen, who led the Chicago White Sox back into pennant contention this season after spending nine years of his career in the National League, placed second with 88 per cent.

There were only two repeaters from the 1971 NEA All-Major League Team, left fielder Willie Stargell of the Pittsburgh Pirates and third baseman Joe Torre of St. Louis. And only two other players on the 1972 squad had been named to the team previously, Billy Williams of the Cubs in 1970 and Johnny Bench of Cincinnati in both 1969 and 1970.

The voting by positions:

First base: During his stormy National League days, Allen was called Rich, Richie and a lot of other things that weren't very complimentary. This year he has been called Dick and the best thing to hit Chicago since Lake Michigan. He made the White Sox one of baseball's most exciting teams and was making a serious threat to lead the league in homers, runs batted in and batting average as the season neared its end. He had no real competition for the first base spot, Lee May of Houston and Stargell tying for second place with only 4 per cent of the vote.

Second base: Bouncy Joe Morgan, who was a key factor in the Cincinnati Reds' 1972 comeback after coming from Houston in an off-season trae, won easily with 71 per cent of the vote. Minnesota's Red Carew, with 24 per cent, was second.

Shortstop: After three straight years as runner-up, the Cicago Cubs' rangy Don Kessinger finally made the first team. But though he is having his best season at the plate and a typically outstanding year in the field, Kessinger had a strong fight from San Francisco's Chris Speier before winning. 40 per cent of the vote to 28. Luis Aparicio of Boston was third with 9 per cent at a position where 13 players received votes.

Third base: Torre, the only saving grace in a dismal Cardinal season, won for the second year in a row, though he was named on only 46 per cent of the ballots. Ron Santo of the Cubs (18 per cent), Brooks Robinson of Baltimore (15 per cent) and Rich Hebner of Pittsburgh (12 per cent) provided the competition.

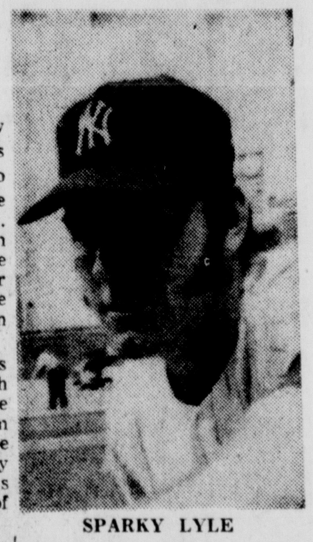

Outfield: Houston's new manager, Leo Durocher, has said that the 21-year-old Cedeno is a better player than Willie Mays was at the same age. Praise like that coming from Durocher is the last step before canonization and the major league players seemed to agree as they made Cedeno an overwhelming choice.

The second outfield spot goes to Williams, whose battle with Cedeno for the National League batting title kept Cub fans from being lulled to sleep by the peaceful surrounding of Wrigely Field this summer.. Williams was named on 77 per cent of the ballots.

The slugging Stargell took the third spot with 37 per cent of the votes, with Joe Rudi of Oakland (21 per cent) and Roberto Clemente of Pittsburgh (10 per cent) trailing. Atlanta's Henry Aaron, who earned first team status in four of the first five NEA polls, was sixth this time.

Catcher — Bench, the Reds' mainstay who was making something of a comeback at 24, outdistanced runner-up Manny Sanguillen, 82 per cent to 11.

Starting pitcher: To call Steve Carlton the ace of the Phillie staff is the damnedest of faint praise. As Bill Conlin of the Philadelphia Daily News wrote earlier this year, Carlton pitching with the Phillies is like a Pulitzer Prize winner writing for "Jack & Jill." Carlton was named on 81 per cent of the players' ballots, while Wilbur Wood of the White Sox was a distant second with 12 per cent.

Relief pitcher — It was the Boston Red Sox who sold Babe Ruth to the Yankees in 1920. And it was the Red Sox who traded Sparky Lyle to the Yankees in 1972. Some people never learn. Lyle appeared in almost half the Yankees victories as he kept them in the pennant race with tireless relief work. He was mentioned on 65 per cent of the player ballots, while Montreal's Mike Marshall (16 per cent) and the Mets' Tug McGraw (8 per cent) also made fair showings.

Southern Cal Retains No. 1 Rating

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Southern California held onto the top spot in The Associated Press college football poll for the third consecutive week today while Michigan and Notre Dame cracked the Top Ten and defending champion Nebraska continued the long climb back.

(The Trojans also held first place in the United Press International poll with 322 points from the UPI's Board of Coaches. Oklahoma, Colorado and Tennessee ranked second, third and fourth, respectively.)

The Trojans of Southern Cal received 28 first-place votes and 940 points from a nationwide panel of sports writers and broadcasters following a 55-20 rout of Illinois.

Although they gained 20 points in the balloting over last week, the Trojans had their lead over Oklahoma trimmed from 80 to 46 points when the Sooners blasted Oregon 68-3 and piled up 14 first-place votes and 894 points.

Colorado whipped Minnesota 38-6 and held onto third place with five No. 1 votes and 728 points but Tennessee went from fifth to fourth with one first-place vote and 622 points thanks to a 45-6 walloping of Wake Forest while idle Ohio State dropped from fourth to fifth with one first-place vote and 544 points.

Alabama, a 35-0 winner over Kentucky, climbed from seventh to sixth with 468 points but Nebraska, gunning for a third straight national championship, mauled Army 77-7 and jumped from ninth to seventh with 465 points. The Cornhuskers, No. 1 in the preseason poll, skidded to 10th when they lost their opener to UCLA.

The other first-place vote went to Michigan, which trimmed UCLA 26-9 and moved up from 12th to eighth while dropping the Bruins from sixth to 15th. Louisiana State fell one position to ninth despite a 42-17 triumph over Texas AM while Notre Dame cracked the Top Ten for the first time this season with an impressive 37-0 opening-game victory over Northwestern.

Arizona State crushed Kansas 56-14 but moved down nevertheless from 10th to 11th as Michigan and Notre Dame climbed past the Sun Devils. Rounding out the Second Ten were Texas, Penn State, Washington, UCLA, Florida State, Mississippi, Tulane, Stanford and West Virginia.

Tulane and West Virginia made the Top Twenty by defeating Georgia 24-13 and Virginia 48-10, respectively. Georgia and Michigan State fell from the rankings, Michigan State losing to Georgia Tech 21-16.

Last week's Second Ten consisted of Penn State, Michigan, Notre Dame, Texas, Washington, Georgia, Florida State, Michigan State, Stanford and Mississippi.

NFL Tunes Out OTB Betting and . . .

Samuels Sears Rozelle

NEW YORK (UPI)—Howard Samuels, head of the Off-Track Betting Corp., Monday accused the National Football League of being "hypocritical, if not downright silly," in its alleged move to prohibit OTB advertising during New York Giants and Jets football games.

Samuels said the NFL forced radio station WNEW, which broadcasts the Giants games, to drop OTB as a sponsor. He said the league also has put pressure on WOR-Radio, which broadcasts the Jets games, but that that station has not yet decided whether to continue carrying OTB ads during the games.

"In my judgment," Samuels said, "such an action constitutes a violation of the antitrust laws and amounts to restraint of trade, as well as censorship."

The OTB chief said he met with NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle last Wednesday to attempt to iron out the matter, but Samuels said the commissioner "would not relent.

'I find the position of the NFL to be hypocritical, if not downright silly," Samuels said in a statement.

Samuels, who has proposed that OTB be expanded to take bets on all sporting events, including football, said the President's National Crime Commission has estimated that illegal gambling was a $20 billion business in the United States. He said illegal wagering, "particularly on professional football, is one of America's largest and fastest growing industries."

"Instead of honestly recognizing this vast illegal business which is monopolized by organized crime and which serves to fuel other underworld activities, the NFL persists in parroting pious phrases which soothe the ear and offend the normal intelligence," Samuels said.

The OTB head said "the NFL's position would be more consistant if they recognized the growing illegal gambling which threatens the integrity of professional football."

Samuels said OTB attorneys have been instructed to study the NFL's position on radio advertising and told to "take whatever action may be available to us."

Bea Albright Raps 628 Series

KINGSTON

Bea is back. Bea Albright, that is. The leading lady roller in the Pioneer Mixed League slammed a 628 triple to make it consecutive 600's in two weeks and take over the area lead she had briefly lost to Helen Tompkins.

Bea cracked the season's first big score, but Helen Tompkins 616 effort came out of the Early Birds loop just two days later to claim the No. 1 spot by a pin. At Albright's next try at the lanes, she backed a 233 start with 215 and 180 lines to roll up her total.

Bob Whittaker provided some competition for the Pioneer spotlight, finishing 267-676 to move into second place in the men's Top Ten. His high single is also number two.

Sylvia Vos Burgh claimed runnerup in the ladies with a 456 while Frank Pereira followed Whittaker with a 594. Other Pioneer scores included Jack Doyle with 564 and Dick Lamoreaux with 536. Team No. 3 took all the group honors with 767-2136.

Tompkins' triple, still second best, came off 208 and 222 games. Cora Martin paced the Bird contenders at 534, Jackie Roudis cracked 200-499 for third and led Nancy Wunderlich at 488 and Laurette Glennon at 475.

Bridge Circle took the game high honors with an 808 combination while Wilbur Oil topped the team aggregates with a 2273.

Anchorage In Sweep

KINGSTON

Manager Ron Theiss' Anchorage I softball team completed a sweep of A Division honors and post-season playoffs in the City Slow Pitch League with a 15-1 record.

Anchorage, undefeated in the 1971 campaign, posted a 12-1 record in regular season play and then won three straight in the playoffs.

Ron Reynolds pitched all 16 games for Anchorage and, of course, also finished with a 15-1 record. He is a 22-year-old St. Remy plumber. George Barnes led the team in home runs with five.

Anchorage played and defeated Bud's, AA division champions, in a challenge game, 16-12, with a five-run rally in the top of the seventh. Barnes slugged a homer and three singles. Dennis Klonowski and Dennis Vogt homered for Anchorage.

Leafs Name Moore

TORONTO (AP) — The Toronto Maple Leafs of the National Hockey League named Gerry Moore as coach of their Tulsa farm club of the Central Hockey League.

Moore, 40, replaces Marcel Pronovost, who quit the Leafs' organization to take a coaching position with the Chicago Cougars in the World Hockey Association. Moore coached Dayton of the IHL the last two seasons.

A Bit of Lore

LEXINGTON, Ky. (UPI) —A variety of bits are used by horse trainers. Each bit has a specific purpose so that jockeys can have greater control of their mounts.

Most bits are made of stainless steel or aluminum. Many have the term "snaffle" in their names. This denotes a swivelling or turning joint which lends flexibility to the bit, lessening its severity.

Sawyers and Beacon Rough on Seers

By IRA FUSFELD

KINGSTON

It took one Saturday of action for a couple of Dutchess County Scholastic League football teams to make folly of all the pre-season prognostications.

Saugerties and Beacon, generally tossed in with the group known as the also-rans, came up with the old "on any given day . . ." type effort and beat Kingston and Arlington, two of the leading "contenders" for the DCSL title.

With Poughkeepsie taking care of Roosevelt, and Ketcham whipping John Jay, another look at the league seems to be in order.

The only team to live up to its notices was Ketcham. The Indians rolled up 247 yards rushing in overpowering weak John Jay. Afterwards Coach Ken Lynn complained that his receivers were running poor pass patterns. That's the sort of thing a coach can afford to complain about when his team has picked up all the yardage it needs on the ground.

One of the Ketcham backs, Ken Van Schaack gained 110 yards by himself. And, by the way, the Indians did have a TD pass, although they notched just 12 yards in the air all day. That scoring strike was a six-yarder from Doug Heady to Dave Wilder.

So Ketcham opened up the way everyone figured it would and remains the team to beat. But don't forget, the Indians were playing John Jay, far from the best kind of competition.

Poughkeepsie and Roosevelt were expected to be in the middle of the pack, with the Pioneers getting the edge. Poughkeepsie won the ball game although the statistics favor the Presidents. Why? Well, Roosevelt fumbled the opening kickoff on its nine setting up one Poughkeepsie score, and the PHS defense forced the Presidents to punt from the end zone another time giving the winners possession on the 22, setting up the second.

Roosevelt never quite recovered.

The Beacon victory came as more of a shock to most people than Saugerties' win was over Kingston. Beacon just wasn't supposed to go anywhere. It had only one win and a tie in two years. The Bulldogs wouldn't threaten. But just as no one told Saugerties it was supposed to lose, Beacon went out and knocked off Arlington.

Again, the stats lied. They showed Arlington outgaining Beacon, 196 to 126. What turned the tide were the two kicks Beacon returned for touchdowns, one for 86 yards, the other for 78 yards.

"Invincible" Arlington, strengthened by the return of running back Larry Riley and going with outstanding young quarterback Kevin Kelly, looked better on paper, but Beacon won the game.

And then there was Saugerties and Kingston. You know what happened in that one. Saugerties couldn't do anything wrong, Kingston couldn't do anything right.

The feeling after the game was that the Maroons are much better than they showed.

Walt Houghtaling, who had a dismal day at quarterback, suffered enough in one game to cover him for the rest of the season. He showed last year that he could direct an offense.

The Kingston defensive line, a proven entity, is far more effective than the group which seemed so porous against Saugerties.

No, Kingston is not as bad as Saugerties made it look.

One more thing, Kingston may have had an off day, but that doesn't mean fellows like Jimmy Whiteford, Bob Praetorius, John Lechner, Doc Salinivich, and Bob Heinbeck, just to name a few, won't be just as effective as they were Saturday against the rest of the league.

What then did the first week of DCSL play prove? That the DCSL is indeed a tough league (Tony Badalato warned us), and that in such a league on any given day . . .

Ulster Booters at Home

STONE RIDGE

Fresh from a triumph in the Clipper Kick-Off Tournament on Long Island, Ulster County Community College's soccer team opens its Mid-Hudson Conference against Orange County Community Wednesday at 3 p.m. at Oehler's Soccer Feld in Morgan Hill.

The Ulster team, coached by George Vizvary, defeated Ocean City Community College from New Jersey 4-1 in the first round of the Long Island tourney last Saturday, then edged Suffolk Community 1-0 in the championship contest.

Mike Perry, the UCCC Director of Athletics, said he was pleased that four Ulster players were named to the Clipper Tourney all-star squad. They were Goalie Mark Charpentier, Maurice Willacy, halfback; and forwards Frank Goglia and Gerard Lee Hing.

Hughes-Epsey Guest Winners

KINGSTON

George Hughes, the perennial Twaalfskill Club champion who does a bit of greenskeeping on the side, invited John Espey, the Wiltwyck Country Club superintendent as his guest in The Twaalfskil Club's Member-Guest tournament. Between them, they fashioned real and handicap birdies all over the venerable layout to win the event with an 11-under-par net score of 28-31-59.

Good as it was, it gave them only a one-stroke edge over two runnersup teams. John Provenzano and Leon Randall teamed for 30-30-60, as Leon posted 32-33-65 on his own ball. Paul Coon and Chuck La Forge fashioned 32-28-60. Hughes fired even par 70 on his own ball for the winning team.

Several teams made a shambles of par with their 80 per cent handicaps. Dennis Pitcock and Sam Pepper shot 30-33-63; Locked in a four-way tie were: Basil Moschowsky-Robert Graves, 30-34-64; Dr. William Pugliese-William Rhinehardt, 30-34-64; Edward Minasian-Willie Goff, 31-33-64.

Tied with net 65s were: Supreme Court Justice Lousi G. Bruhn-J. Michael Bruhn, 34-31-65 and four teams with net 67s: Dr. C. J. Goffredi - Donald DeKoskie, 33-34; Joseph Hill-Robert Brown, 34-33; Alvin Boice-George Cosenza, 35-32, and William Livingston-Mike Mangi, 34-33.

Three teams carded net 69s: Dan Bernard-Al Scacchetti, 34-35; Stirling Potter Sr.-Stirling Potter Jr., 34-35; and Leo Yonnetti-Val D'Oyer, 37-32.

BOND AND CAPITAL NOTE ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF KINGSTON, NEW YORK, AUTHORIZING THE PURCHASE OF EQUIPMENT BY THE DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS OF SAID CITY, STATING THE ESTIMATED TOTAL MAXIMUM COST THEREOF TO BE THE SUM OF $147,447.00 AND APPROPRIATING SAID AMOUNT THEREFOR, AUTHORIZING THE ISSUANCE OF $7,447.00 CAPITAL NOTES TO PROVIDE THE DOWNPAYMENT AND $140,000.00 SERIAL BONDS OF SAID CITY TO FINANCE SAID APPROPRIATION.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COMMON COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF KINGSTON, IN THE COUNTY OF ULSTER, NEW YORK (by the favorable vote of not less than two-thirds of all the members of said Council) AS FOLLOWS:

SECTION 1. The City of Kingston in the County of Ulster, New York, is hereby authorized to purchase four (4) Walters four wheel drive snow plows for use of the Department of Public Works of the City of Kingston. The estimated maximum cost of said specific object or purpose, including preliminary costs and costs incidental thereto and the financing thereof is $147,447.00 and the said amount is hereby appropriated therefor. The plan of financing includes the issuance by the said City of Kingston of $7,447.00 in capital notes of said City to provide the downpayment and the balance of $140,000.00 by serial bonds of the said City and the levy of a tax upon all the taxable real property in the City of Kingston to pay the principal of and interest on said bonds as the same shall become due and payable.

SECTION 2. Pursuant to the provisions of the Local Finance Law constituting Chapter 33-a of the Consolidated Laws of the State of New York, capital notes in the principal amount of $7,447.00 and serial bonds in the principal amount of $140,000.00 of the City of Kingston are hereby authorized to be issued to finance the cost of said specific object or purpose.

SECTION 3. The following additional matters are hereby determined and declared:

(a) The period of probable usefulness of the specific object or purpose for which the notes and bonds authorized pursuant to this ordinance are to be issued within the limitations of Section 11.00, Subdivision 28 of said Local Finance Law is fifteen (15) years.

(b) Current funds are required to be provided prior to the issuance of the serial bonds herein authorized or any bond anticipation notes issued in anticipation of said bonds and such current funds will be provided by the issuance of the $7,447.00 in capital notes herein authorized. The City Treasurer is hereby authorized and directed to set aside the proceedings of the sale of said capital notes and to apply the same solely to said specific object or purpose.

SECTION 4. Each of the notes and bonds authorized by this ordinance and any bond anticipation notes issued in anticipation of the sale of such bonds, shall contain the recital of validity prescribed by Section 52.00 of the Local Finance Law and said notes and bonds and any notes issued in anticipation of said bonds, shall be general obligation of the City of Kingston, payable as to both principal and interest by a general tax upon all the taxable real property within the City without limitation as to rate or amount. The faith and credit of the City are hereby irrevocably pledged to the punctual payment of the principal of and interest on said notes and bonds and provision shall be made annually in the budget of the City by appropriation for

(a) The amortization and redemption of the bonds to mature in such year, and

(b) The payment of interest to be due and payable in such year.

SECTION 5. Subject to the provisions of this ordinance and of said Local Finance Law and pursuant to the provisions of Section 30.00 relative to the authorization of the issuance of bond anticipation notes and of Section 50.00, 56.00 to 60.00 of said Law, the powers and duties of the Common Council relatively to prescribing the terms, form and contents and as to the sale and issuance of the notes and bonds herein authorized and of any bond anticipation notes authorized and issued in anticipation of said bonds and the renewals thereof are hereby delegated to the City Treasurer, Chief Fiscal Officer of said City.

SECTION 6. It is further stated that the validity of the notes and bonds authorized by this ordinance and of notes issued in anticipation of said bonds may be contested only if:

(a) Such obligations are authorized for an object or purpose for which the City is not authorized to expend money; or

(b) The provisions of law which should be complied with at the date of the publication of such ordinance are not substantially complied with; and

(c) An action, suit or proceeding contesting such validity must commence within twenty (20) days after the date of such publication; or

(d) Such obligations are authorized in violation of the provisions of the Constitution.

SECTION 7. This ordinance which takes effect immediately, shall be published in full, after approval by the Mayor, in The Daily Freeman and in the Kingstonian, the official newspapers of the City, together with a notice substantially in the form as prescribed by Section 81.00 of the Local Finance Law.

Submitted to the Mayor by the City Clerk this 6th day of September, 1972.

BOND ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF KINGSTON, NEW YORK, AUTHORIZING THE PURCHASE OF CERTAIN REAL PROPERTY AND THE DEMOLITION OF STRUCTURES THEREON INCIDENTAL TO A CAPITAL IMPROVEMENT, NAMELY, THE CONSTRUCTION OF MUNICIPAL PARKING AREA IN THE CENTRAL BROADWAY SHOPPING AREA STATING THE ESTIMATED MAXIMUM COST OF SUCH LAND ACQUISITION AND DEMOLITION TO BE THE SUM OF $66,000.00, EXPRESSING THE INTENT OF THE MUNICIPALITY TO CONSTRUCT THE CAPITAL IMPROVEMENT, VIZ., THE ACTUAL PARKING AREA OUT OF PRESENT BUDGETARY FUNDS AND THROUGH MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENTAL LABOR AND EQUIPMENT, APPROPRIATING SAID AMOUNT THEREFOR AND AUTHORIZING THE ISSUANCE OF $3,300.00 CAPITAL NOTES TO PROVIDE THE DOWN PAYMENT, AND $62,700.00 SERIAL BONDS OF SAID CITY TO FINANCE THE BALANCE OF SAID APPROPRIATION.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COMMON COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF KINGSTON, IN THE COUNTY OF ULSTER, NEW YORK (by the favorable vote of not less than two-thirds of all the members of said Council) AS FOLLOWS:

SECTION 1. The City of Kingston in the County of Ulster, State of New York, is hereby authorized to purchase certain real property owned by Barnett Sussin and identified as numbers 349-353 and 355 Broadway, in the City of Kingston, County of Ulster and State of New York for the sum of $23,000.00 net and certain real property owned by th Kingston Trust Company and known as and by the street numbers 656-658 Broadway, in the City of Kingston, County of Ulster and State of New York for the sum of $18,000.00 net and to demolish and remove the structures thereon erected together with the structures erected on real property owned by the City of Kingston, New York, and located at and known as and by the street numbers 614-616 Broadway, in the City of Kingston, County of Ulster and State of New York, for the purpose of improving the said parcels of real property with a Municipal parking area. The estimated maximum cost of said demolition and the clearing of the land on the aforedescribed parcels is the sum of $25,000.00. The total said amount for the purchase and demolition as aforesaid is the sum of $66,000.00 and the said amount is hereby appropriated for said purposes. It is the stated further purpose of the City of Kingston to defray the cost of the improvement of said cleared land with Municipal parking area out of budgeted funds and through the use of Municipal departmental labor and equipment. The plan of financing the land acquisition and demolition includes the issuance by the said City of Kingston $3,000.00 in capital notes of said City to provide the down payment and the balance of $62,700.00 by the issuance of serial bonds of the said City and the levy of a tax upon all the taxable real property in the City of Kingston to pay the principal of and interest on said bonds as they shall become due and payable.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Good for getting out of any indoor rut into which you have sunk and to see and be with those relatives, neighbors and other companions with whom you have congenial contact. Search out the information that can stand you in good stead, also. Fine for inventive and ingenious activities that bring mental advancement.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Spending time with people you like and making new associates, friends as well can turn this into a very constructive day for you. Increase production at your place of business, too. Think along more progressive lines.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Delve into the monetary side of life and begin by making a better budget for yourself that you can really follow. Simplify your life in some way so that clutter does not waste your valuable time. Put some new idea to work right away.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) See what you can do to add to present goodwill you enjoy with others in whatever avenue of your living, endeavors presents itself. Keep any professional appointment made. Be sure teeth are in top condition.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Get into the quiet of your study and figure out how the future should go for you and handle the correspondence necessary to such ends. Get recommendations you need from the right sources. Use your willpower. Don't be afraid of it.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You can easily gain the aims you have in mind if you discuss them with good friends who think logically and cleverly. Enjoy the social side of life at the same time as well. Stop being so fearful of the future.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You can improve your image by handling that civic duty very intelligently and getting the approval of bigwigs, the public in general. Some fine talent you have can bring much advancement. Talk less, do more.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Show wisdom and seize those fine opportunities that present themselves today for advancement in either business or social fields. Study further into that data before you get into that new outlet. Don't make any mistakes.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You have many obligations to attend to so waste no time in so doing and they are behind you very quickly, satisfactorily. High efficiency is possible now. The evening can be ideal from the romantic standpoint.

SAGGITARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Instead of expecting abject obedience from others, you get better results by discussing what you want from them diplomatically now. Delving into that civic affair can bring bigger rewards, benefits than you had anticipated.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You are capable of handling all that work ahead of you with real efficiency, so get right at it instead of going off on some tangent. Find right articles of apparel at right price. Shop around early.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You can have a particularly fine day at the amusements that most appeal to you provided you are with congenials. Avoid arguments with uncertain personalities. A show of affection for mate is wise, right.

PICES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Making necessary improvements at home and being sure that appliances are in good working order are your best ways of proceeding now. Buy little thoughtful gifts for those who dwell with you. Show that you really care.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY . . . he or she will be one of those young people with a peculiar charm all his or her own that will cause others to want to spoil your offspring, so teach early to stand on own two feet, otherwise the fine ability here will be lost. There can be much success in such fields as the moving picture industry, the arts, designing, the beauty field, etc. A great flair for precision and neatness. The social nature is very pronounced here, too.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

NOISE: (Q.) The noise in my room is so terrible that I am going crazy. The room is right over the kitchen. It is midnight now and my mother and father are down there talking about eating out. My father just got a sandwich. I can hear the TV.

We just moved into this house. It is new. The room was built specially for me. My mother said it would be wonderful. What I didn't know was that I could hear everything that goes on in the kitchen, from my mother fixing breakfast at 6 in the morning to the TV blaring at 11 at night.

There are six people in my family and there's somebody down there all the time. I can't study. In school I'm half asleep. I'm going crazy. Is there anything I can do? How about soundproofing? Or should I sleep outside with the dog? It's cold out there.—Dead Tired and Going Crazy in Connecticut.

(A.) Too many homes, apartments, motels and other buildings today are designed to be beautiful and charming but not quiet. Yours seems to be one of them.

Talk to your parents about your idea of sound-proofing. Your builder can probably install a deeper carpet and sound-absorbing walls and ceiling. You can also get screens and baffles that will tame a lot of sound.

Also your parents could make a rule: No TV in the kitchen after supper.

I agree with you that you need peace and quiet so you can study and sleep at home and be alert in school.

HE STOPPED (Q.) I went out with Tim about two months. Then he stopped going out with me. He didn't say why. He is going out with another girl now. I really love him. Can you help me decide what to do? Should I wait and hope he'll come back to me?—Hurting in Pennsylvania.

(A.) I am sorry but you really have nothing to decide. He has dropped you and you must accept that fact. You have met with a defeat. Taking it and going on from there will make you a stronger person.

Bit of Luck Good as Magic

By Oswald & James Jacoby

Here is another Jannersten hand. South is in four spades and West has doubled the one spade opening bid and has opened a trump.

South looks over dummy carefully. It looks as if West will hold all missing high cards and South is faced with the prospect of losing two hearts, a diamond and a club. What feat of magic can make one of these losers disappear?

Actually, no magic is necessary. Just a little bit of luck.

South wins the trump and leads a low diamond toward dummy. West's best play is to hop up with his king. He does just that and leads a second trump.

South wins this in his own hand also and plays a low club. If West clatters up with the ace, South's worries are over.

But West plays low. Dummy's king wins the trick and South is ready with the magic.

He plays out the rest of the diamonds, discarding one of dummy's clubs on the last one. Then he plays his queen of clubs.

West is on lead again and no matter what he does, one of South's heart losers has vanished.

What was the bit of luck we mentioned earlier? If diamonds had broken badly South wouldn't have been able to discard that club from dummy and would have had to be set.

Richard Boone Back on TV

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — After a seven-year absence, Richard Boone is back on television, as uncompromising as ever in his judgment of the ratings and the frustrations of making a Western on a backlot.

"I don't even like being here," rasped Boone, who now has taken up residence in St. Augustine, Fla., after seven years in Hawaii. "There are so many nice places in the world."

Wearing a red jumpsuit, Boone sat in his dressing room-office at Universal Studios. His dark brown hair was almost to his shoulders and his gray moustache almost to his chin for his role in "Hec Ramsey" on NBC's "Sunday Mystery Movie."

"If we go beyond the current commitment, whatever is made after that will be made away from the studio entirely," he said. Boone is committed to four 90-minute shows and the two-hour movie that kicks the series off Sunday, Oct. 8.

First on his schedule after "Hec Ramsey," however, is an American Western to be filmed entirely in Israel. It will be his eighth trip to Israel, where he previously made the movie "Madron."

Boone always has preferred location shooting. "The backlot is an indescribable mess," he said. "Visually, it looks fine. But creatively, you can't work there. You're playing a scene and a pink and white bus drives up 15 feet away and an idiot on a loudspeaker says, 'There they are, ladies and gentlemen, acting just for you.' And you're trying to concentrate on a scene."

Boone said if the show is successful future episodes would be made in Tucson or Santa Fe. "They both have sound stages for interiors. All we lose is interference and tour buses."

That success, of course, depends on the ratings — a subject that brings Boone to the boiling point. He said his first series, "Medic," was put on "for just one reason — to knock Lucille Ball off top notch." It failed to do so and NBC canceled it after two years.

His next series, "Have Gun, Will Travel," rode high in the ratings and Boone left it a multimillionaire in 1963 to put together a repertory company for anthologies on "The Richard Boone Show" on NBC. It was canceled after the first year. He said, "I was bitter about it then and I still am. It was a rotten decision. The show was just beginning to catch on."

After the anthology show was dropped, Boone moved to Hawaii and vowed never to return to television. He said, "I had no reason to come back. Economically, I have no reason to. Sid flat talked me into it."

Sid is Sidney Scheinberg, president of Universal Television, whom Boone calls one of the few "really creative" studio executives. He said, "He listens and he cares. If I have any problems he says to call him. He answers the phone and straightens it out."

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

The marathon race commemorates the feat of Pheidippides, who ran about 23 miles from Marathon to Athens, announced the Greek victory over the Persians, then fell dead. The World Almanac notes that though this race, which covers 26 miles and 385 yards, is today an Olympic highlight it was not a part of the ancient Greek Olympiads. The first modern Olympic marathon, in 1896, was won by a Greek.

POWs' Status Termed 'Active'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon regards three released American prisoners of war en route home as active-duty military officers responsible for turning themselves over to U.S. authorities at the first opportunity.

"Technically," a Pentagon official said, "the first time they are offered the choice to turn themselves in to U.S. authorities, and they don't do it, they could be considered AWOL." But, he added, that's not likely.

"Our main interest is in reuniting them with their families and seeing that they're given the proper medical treatment."

The three—Air Force Maj. Edward Elias, Navy Lt. Mark L. Gartley and Navy Lt. (j.g.) Norris A. Charles—were reported by Hanoi to have cabled President Nixon, suggesting that they want to return to New York with the antiwar delegation that arranged their release.

The men left North Vietnam Monday and arrived in Peking today. They are expected to arrive Thursday in New York by way of Moscow and Copenhagen.

American officials had expected to meet them in Vientiane, Laos, but North Vietnam disapproved.

Once the three arrive in New York, U.S. officials are expected to board the plane immediately on landing and advise them of their responsibilities as military officers, officials said. Arrangements have been made for medical examination and treatment at military hospitals closest to their homes.

Presidential Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler declared "absolutely not" when asked Monday if any charges are being considered against either of the three for anything that might have happened in the prison camps.

And, a Pentagon spokesman added, "we're not even concerning ourselves with what they have been saying" since their release from captivity. "Our concern is with the release of all our men."

Although no legal action is contemplated against these men or future returned prisoners who might have made broadcasts or signed antiwar statements during captivity, charges could be brought if information develops that they committed a crime against their fellow prisoners.

Under the Uniform Code of Military Justice, a serviceman returning from enemy captivity can prefer charges against a fellow prisoner for something that happened in camp.

During their hospital stay, Elias, Gartley and Charles will be allowed visits with their families, and probably will be permitted to meet with the press. Special intelligence teams can be expected to question them about their experience and treatment in captivity, and their knowledge of other prisoners and men still listed as missing.

B52s Hit Cambodian Camps

SAIGON (UPI) — The U.S. command diverted more than than one-third of the B52 force in Indochina from targets over Laos and Vietnam and sent them on one of the heaviest raids yet over southeastern Cambodia, military sources said today.

The 30-plane strike force Monday night and today dumped more than two million tons of bombs on Communist base camps just across the South Vietnamese border, spokesmen said. U.S. miitary authorities fear the Communists may renew their offensive from the camps within the next three weeks in a pre-U.S. election effort.

Command spokesmen also said Air Force jets demolished a fuel storage dump outside Hanoi Monday with laser-guided bombs and leveled an area the size of four city blocks, sending black smoke rising to 13,000 feet.

In South Vietnam, government rangers today punched through a Communist ring to reach a besieged battalion that had been isolated for nine days at the central coast district town of Ba To, military sources said. But 12 miles east of Ba To, UPI reporter Edward Bassett said North Vietnamese troops attacked three outposts early today at Duc Pho, 300 miles north of Saigon.

Command spokesmen said the B52s on the Cambodian mission hit base camps in Kampong Cham, Prey Veng and Svay Rieng Provinces—jump-off points for attacks on Saigon and Tay Ninh for five years before the joint U.S.-South Vietnamese strike into Cambodia in 1970. The two-month campaign cleared the Communists from the sanctuaries in the three provinces, but they reoccupied them this fall and winter.

Meanwhile, in Washington, the Senate votes today for the third time this year on a proposal to require total U.S. troop withdrawal from Indochina.

The test comes on an amendment by Chairman John C. Stennis of the Senate Armed Services Committee to eliminate the end-the-war rider from a $1.5-billion foreign-military-aid authorization bill.

The rider, approved by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, would cut off funds for all military actions in Indochina except troop withdrawal, and require removal of all U.S. ground, naval and air forces from Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia in four months, contingent upon release of all American prisoners of war by North Vietnam and accounting for all GIs missing in action.

SALT Treaty Approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress has approved the temporary U.S.-Soviet agreement limiting offensive nuclear weapons, but asked that U.S. negotiators strive for more nearly equal numbers in any permanent curbs on each nation's arsenal.

By a 306-4 vote Monday, the House approved the resolution endorsing the five-year agreement and the arms-parity amendment sponsored by Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., and attached by the Senate after a month of debate.

The only opposition during brief House debate came from Rep. John R. Rarick, D-La., who said the Soviets outbargained the United States on the agreement signed May 26.

"The administration stopped too quick and got the short end," Rarick contended.

House Foreign Affairs Chairman Thomas E. Morgan, D-Pa., called the Jackson amendment unnecessary but urged the House to accept it to avoid further delay in approving the accord before U.S.-Soviet talks begin this fall on a broader arms agreement.

White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said President Nixon was "extremely pleased" at the House vote and added:

"The overwhelming vote in both houses is a gratifying expression of support for these historic arms-limitation agreements, and a hopeful milestone in our continuing efforts to achieve further progress in strategic-arms limitation."

The administration had tacitly supported the Jackson amendment which occupied Senate debate for a month after critics claimed it could hamper future negotiations with the Russians.

The Jackson amendment does not alter the nuclear freeze signed in Moscow by Nixon and Soviet party leader Leonid I. Brezhnev. But in calling for arms parity in future agreements, it reflects the dissatisfaction of Jackson and other congressmen over the numbers set by the interim agreement.

It notes the defensive-weapons treaty signed at the same time limits both nations to an equal number of antimissle sites—two each—and urges that Nixon or his successor seek a treaty on offensive weapons that "would not limit the United States to levels of intercontinental strategic forces inferior to the limits provided for the Soviet Union."

The resolution approving the five-year agreement also backs Nixon's position that "a vigorous research-and-development and modernization program" for U.S. nuclear forces such as the Trident submarine is needed as an inducement to the Soviets to negotiate a stiffer arms-limitation agreement.

The resolution also urges the President to seek early strategic-arms-reduction talks with the Soviets, mainland China and other countries.

North Viets, Kissinger Conducting Paris Sessions

WASHINGTON (AP) — Henry A. Kissinger, assistant to President Nixon for national security affairs, is meeting in Paris today with representatives of North Vietnam, the White House announced.

Press secretary Ronald Zeigler said Kissinger was conferring with special adviser Le Duc Tho and Xuan Thuy of the North Vietnamese delegation to the Paris peace talks.

"In accordance with our agreements with the other side, I have no further information to provide on this meeting," Ziegler said.

This is the 18th private meeting that Kissinger has held with Le Duc Tho concerning the war in Vietnam. The last was on Sept. 15.

It was not known when Kissinger left for Paris nor the specific matters to be taken up with the North Vietnamese representatives.

Following his most recent secret talks in Paris, Kissinger said in an interview that the Hanoi delegates had indicated a "certain seriousness" in the negotiations.

But he said he took a dim view of the latest North Vietnamese proposal for a coalition government in Saigon, saying it appeared to be weighted in favor of the Communists.

Nixon Wins Approval On Spending Ceiling

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon won approval from a key congressional committee Monday of his $250 billion ceiling on federal spending, but a critic said the proposal would give Nixon "dictatorship" powers to cut any federal program he chooses.

The House Ways & Means Committee voted 20-5 for the ceiling in the exact language sought by Nixon and which administration spokesmen conceded would give him authority to cut items such as Social Security and veterans benefits and even the salaries of congressmen.

The spokesmen told the panel earlier, however, Nixon would not cut Social Security benefits, revenue sharing or the interest on the national debt.

The sweeping authority in the measure, which administration sources conceded privately was the strongest ever given any President in the area of spending, was attacked by Rep. James Burke, D-Mass., a committee member as "heading toward a dictatorship."

The spending ceiling is part of an overall bill approved by the committee that would give Nixon the $15 billion increase he seeks through next June 30 in the temporary $450 billion limit that the government can now go into debt.

The bill would also create a 30-member Joint House-Senate Committee that would study how to handle future spending ceilings and report back to the new Congress by next Feb. 15 with recommendations.

Fragging Trial Recessed, No Explanation Given

FT. ORD, Calif. (AP) — Pvt. Billy Dean Smith's court martial on charges of murdering two Army officers at Bien Hoa Base near Saigon with a fragmentation grenade has been recessed without explanation until next Tuesday, Oct. 3.

Last Friday the trial—first held in this country on a fragging charge—was recessed until today after the prosecution said a number of witnesses had not responded to subpoenas. The second postponement, like the first, was agreed to by the defense.

Pvt. Smith is a black GI from the Watts area in Los Angeles who is charged with the murder of two officers, wounding another and attempted murder of two others in the explosion March 15, 1971.

Police Find Hooded Body

BELFAST (UPI) — Police found the hooded body of a man shot and killed on a Belfast street today and a bomb blast damaged a Roman Catholic Church late Monday as continuing Northern Ireland violence overshadowed peace talks in England.

The unidentified dead man was found on Park Avenue in East Belfast by police checking on a number of shots heard in the area. Police said a hood had been placed over his head and he had been shot in the head. He was the 576th fatal victim of Northern Ireland violence that erupted in August, 1969.

Across the Irish Sea, some Northern Irish political leaders met for the second day in search of a formula to end the violence.
